FOREWORD

Presented here is comprehensive guidance for the Yom Tov of Shavuot. The details are derived from multiple sources,, revised by Rabbi M.M. Rotenberg.

Due to a dearth of space, only some references and halachic notes have been added. Primary sources include: Shulchan Aruch and commentaries, Sefer Haminhagim Chabad, Luach Colel Chabad, Sichos, and Igros Kodesh. Please see the footnotes in the Hebrew section for more halachic discussion of the topics mentioned.

The intention of this summary is to inform you of some of the relevant laws, not to replace each person's obligation to review the Halachos comprehensively.

Please note: Specific laws are mentioned only the first time that they become relevant, although they may apply to subsequent dates as well.

TIME TO PREPARE

In a sichah on the second day of Rosh Hashanah 5752, the Rebbe states:

"We need to focus on studying the laws that apply to this time of year, during which many changes are made to the standard prayers and there are numerous customs that apply. We should make certain to study these laws in the Code of Jewish Law.

"Recently, yearly calendars have begun to include many of the laws that apply to the relevant time of the year and that are necessary to know. This is particularly useful for those who, for whatever reason, do not have sefarim or do not know how to find what they are looking for in the sefarim that they own. Now, however, they can simply examine such calendars and easily find the relevant laws.

"It is therefore extremely appropriate for every single person to peruse the contents of these calendars, such as the Kollal Chabad calendar (available both in wall size and pocket size formats) in such a manner that the laws that apply to this time of year will become fixed in his memory. After all, it sometimes happens that a halachic question arises precisely at a point during which it is forbidden to interrupt and ask for someone's guidance—or when there is nobody around to ask. Furthermore [not having familiarized himself with the relevant laws beforehand], it can happen that one does not even realize that there is a problem to begin with."

YEAR OF HAKHEL

WHAT IS HAKHEL?

Once every seven years, on the second day of Sukkos that immediately follows the conclusion of a Shemitah year, the entire nation—men, women, and children—gather at the Beis Hamikdash and hear the king read aloud from the Torah. This incredible setting is compared to the receiving of the Torah on Mount Sinai and inspires all present with commitment, love, and awe of Hashem. This mitzvah is known as Hakhel, "assembly" of the Jewish nation. Moshiach himself will read from the Torah in the third Beis Hamikdash each Hakhel year—may we merit his coming immediately!

THE REBBE ON HAKHEL

The Rebbe calls attention to the concept of Hakhel to an extraordinary degree and with increasing intensity, to the point that his sichos and letters are filled with Hakhel-related directives. Hakhel is not limited to Sukkos. It remains a timely and urgent concept throughout a Hakhel year. We are expected to raise awareness of Hakhel at every possible opportunity and in every possible way, to draw associations between all our activities and the “call of the hour”—Hakhel. Leading by example, the Rebbe went to unusual lengths to draw such associations in his many sichos.

During Simchas Torah 5748, the Rebbe called for a Hakhel, assembly, of literature on Hakhel, meaning that information from all relevant Torah sources on the concept of Hakhel should be published in a single volume. It was to include teachings from Nigleh and especially from the inner dimensions of Torah, primarily as those teachings are explained in Chassidus. The goal of the volume would be identical to the goal of an actual Hakhel experience: to inspire the people to greater fear and awe of Hashem.

On Shabbos Mishpatim 5741, the Rebbe called for studying the “laws of Hakhel.” It is an obligation to study the laws of each festival every year thirty days in advance of the actual festival. We should similarly study the spiritual laws of Hakhel as they are recorded in the Torah teachings of Mussar, Chassidus, and Kabbalah.

It is not the purpose of this publication, nor is it within its scope, to record all the relevant information on Hakhel, but we have made an effort to include snippets of relevant material wherever appropriate, culled from sichos that the Rebbe delivered at farbrengens in 770—or, to borrow a phrase from the laws of Hakhel, that “the king would read ... on a wooden platform in the courtyard of the Beis Hamikdash.” This is no substitute for the need to study the topic from the original sources. The Rebbe’s sichos and letters on the matter are incredibly extensive.¹

This guide incorporates several reminders about laws that will only be applicable during the Era of Redemption, with the hope that Moshiach will come speedily, allowing us to implement these laws in practice.

This year, a Hakhel year, bears a special connection to Moshiach. The Navi Yirmiyahu foretells that at the time of the Final Redemption, “A great gathering (kahal, akin to hakhel) will return here.” Hakhel is an event led by the Jewish king—a scion of Beis Dovid, and therefore, at our Hakhels of the Future, Melech Hamoshiach himself will preside and read from the Torah to inspire the entire, rehabilitated Jewish Nation, speedily in our days.²

LAWS OF REDEMPTION

The concept of studying these halachos is based on several sichos, some of which are quoted below:

TO REALIZE REDEMPTION

“Hashem begs the Jewish people,” the Rebbe passionately stated, “to occupy themselves with the study of the laws of the sacrificial orders ... which [as our Sages state] is considered as if we had actually offered the sacrifices. This study will bring about the actual offerings because it brings [to quote the Rambam] ‘King Moshiach [who] will build the Beis Hamikdash ... and restore the laws of the Torah ... so that the Jewish people will again offer the sacrifices ... in accordance with all the mitzvos that are stated in the Torah,’ speedily, in our time—literally! [Then, to quote the festival liturgy] ‘We will offer before You there the offerings of our obligations ... in accordance with the commandments of Your will.’”³

“We must experience greater longing and yearning for the Redemption,” the Rebbe demanded. “One of the ways this is accomplished is through studying more Torah on the subjects of the Redemption and the Beis Hamikdash. Studying these topics greatly hastens their actual realization, to the extent that we will go directly from studying these subjects to greet our righteous Moshiach. We will inform him, ‘We have just completed studying the laws associated with your coming!’ An additional motivation to study these laws is that we must expect Moshiach’s arrival each and every day. In that case, these laws [concerning the Redemption and the Beis Hamikdash] are matters that every Jew—men and women alike—must know in order to put them into practical use on a daily basis, such as many of the laws of the offerings.”⁴

General Note: The times listed below are for Crown Heights only. Since one can never achieve complete precision, and many factors may influence the accuracy of these times, it is recommended to begin earlier than the time listed and not wait until the last minute (e.g., for the start of Shabbos), or to wait extra time, when that is the appropriate precaution (e.g., at the close of Shabbos).

²) Many sichos discuss this connection more broadly and deeply. Some of them will be mentioned later in the booklet.

PREPARING FOR SHAVUOS

CROSSING THE DATE LINE

Halachah bids a person to avoid crossing the International Date Line during Sefirah if at all possible because of the issues associated with celebrating Shavuos when missing a day of the counting. In his Igros Kodesh, the Rebbe admonishes those who are cavalier concerning this Halachic issue.

Someone who did travel across the Date Line during Sefirah should ask a Rav—as early as possible—when and how to celebrate Shavuos.

Similarly—and in a stricter sense as well—polar travel, where night and day are indistinguishable, should be avoided.

GREETINGS

Kabbolas hatorah b'simchah ub'pnimiyus! The Rebbe encourages all Jews to wish one another to “receive the Torah on Shavuos with joy and innerness”, using this precise terminology of the Friediker Rebbe. The Rebbe adds that it brings additional blessing to the one extending the blessing as well.

FUNDAMENTALS

“Now is the appropriate time to raise an issue that stands to be corrected.” the Rebbe said before Shavuos,⁵ “We often discuss how a specific matter should be taken to heart in preparation for a given Yom Tov (or other important date), and we encourage everyone to put effort into that specific area. Nevertheless, it is patently obvious that this comes in addition to all the other things that need to be done in preparation for Yom Tov. It is just that since these other requirements are so very obviously necessary, that they do not require any mention.

“However, it sometimes happens, due to the intense enthusiasm in promoting that specific—additional—activity, that the primary preparations are all but forgotten about!

“As a result of this ‘oversight,’ it sometimes happens, that when informing the public of what they have to do for Shavuos, only the proposal to bring every Jewish child to the synagogue to hear the Ten Commandments, or to increase in giving tzedakah before Shavuos, gets publicized—but nothing further!

“There is therefore a need to emphasize that the said activities are additions to our primary preparations. Clearly, we should publicize the fundamental Shavuos preparations—which are explained in numerous places, in the works of Mussar and the like (even before we get to Chassidus), and are even included in the Kitzur Shulchan Aruch ... translated into all languages ... explained and elaborated upon in a vast number of Torah sources. It is only due to the darkness of exile that we have to stress that the activities should not remain within the 'Torah sources'—but rather, should be implemented in the real world."

SUNDAY, ROSH CHODESH SIVAN, 45 DAYS OF THE OMER

A DAY FOR MOSHIACH

"Every Rosh Chodesh, the spark of Moshiach, also known as the Yechidah in every Jew's soul (which is a spark of the general Yechidah—the soul of Moshiach) is revealed.

The revelation of this spark resonates and causes a rejuvenation in the entire being of every Jew, so that everything they do is permeated with the level of Yechidah. Most importantly, through this revelation, we cause the revelation and arrival of Moshiach in the most literal sense—that a king from the house of David arises, a soul in body etc."⁶

PRAYERS

Yaaleh ve'yavo is recited in the Amidah and in Birchas Hamazon. If you forgot, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

When saying the brachah Me'ei Shalosh (for items requiring al hamichya, the seven fruits or wine), the proper wording for today is: Vezechreinu l'tovah b'yom Rosh Hachodesh hazeh. If you forget, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

In Shacharis, half-*Hallel*⁷ is recited, then V'avraham zaken, Kaddish tiskabel, Shir shel Yom (Rishon Bashabbos), Hoshi'einu, Barchi nafshi, and Kaddish Yasom, followed by the reading of the Torah.

KRIAS HATORAH

Four aliyos are read in the Rosh Chodesh reading (Kohen—until ola tamid, Levi—reread the verse, Vamarta lahem until revi'is hahin, Shlishi—until veniska, and Revi'i—Uv'roshei chadsheichem until venisko.)

The Torah reading is followed by chatzi Kaddish; hagbah and gelilah; Ashrei and Uva letziyon—the chazzan does not conclude Uva letziyon aloud. That is followed by Yehalelu and the return of the Torah to the aron. The tefillin are then removed, Rabbeinu Tam tefillin are donned and then removed before continuing with Musaf.

The chazzan should recite a chapter of *Tehillim*⁸ before beginning chatzi Kaddish for Musaf.

6) Sichah of Parshas Toldos 5752

7) Does one make a brachah on half-Hallel if davening without a minyan? See #2750

8) The reasoning for this practice is explained on #27517.

LAW OF REDEMPTION: TODAY'S OFFERINGS

We offer the following Korban Musaf in the Beis Hamikdash in honor of Rosh Chodesh: two bulls, one ram, seven lambs as burnt-offerings, and one goat for a sin-offering. These are in addition to the daily Korban Tamid.

We will all ascend to the Beis Hamikdash in Yerushalayim—not just three times a year, for Pesach, Shavuos and Sukkos, but also for each Shabbos and for each Rosh Chodesh (as it says in Navi⁹).

Omer Reminder: If you forgot to count the Omer last night, count it during the day without a blessing. If you only missed last night (but counted the first forty-four days by night or day), you may resume counting tonight with a blessing.

Today we learn Sotah 45, following the custom of learning one dafa a day throughout the Omer, that corresponds to that day of counting.

ROSH CHODESH CUSTOMS

It is a mitzvah to enhance the quality of our meals on Rosh Chodesh.

It is an ancient custom, on each Rosh Chodesh, to study one verse of the chapter of Tehillim that corresponds to the current years of a person's life. The verse should be studied with the commentary of Rashi, and additional commentaries may be added as well. If the current chapter contains less than twelve verses, or in a leap year, when there are more than twelve months, verses that have been studied on a previous Rosh Chodesh should be studied a second time. Similarly, if the current chapter contains many verses, then two or three verses should be studied at once on each Rosh Chodesh of the year.

TACHNUN

We do not say Tachanun, nor may we fast, from Rosh Chodesh Sivan until the twelfth of Sivan. The exception to this rule is a bride and groom on their wedding day.¹⁰

On these days when Tachanun is not said, we omit Lamnatzeach (Chapter 20 of Tehillim) from davening. Instead, we precede the daily Tehillim with its recitation.

LAW OF REDEMPTION: 30 DAYS BEFORE

In his Shulchan Aruch, the Alter Rebbe states¹¹: “During the times of the Beis Hamikdash the early Sages instituted that the laws of each festival should be explained to the public starting thirty days prior to the festival. Therefore, they would begin teaching the laws of Shavuos from the fifth of Iyar onward. Since each person living in Eretz Yisrael was obligated to bring three offerings (olas re'iyah, shalmei chagigah, and shalmei simchah) on each festival and each sacrifice has to be free of any blemish or other disqualification,

9) Yeshayah 10:23

10) On Isru Chag, however, they do not fast.

11) beginning of Hilchos Pesach

the Sages instituted this practice of publicly explaining the laws of the festivals thirty days in advance to remind the people of the festival so that they do not forget to prepare animals that are fit for offering. They then had a full thirty days to prepare.”

PREPARING FOR MATAN TORAH

In the days preceding Shavuos, we should prepare ourselves in all the ways the Jews originally prepared themselves for receiving the Torah. The Rebbe infers this directive from the detailed citation of the Alter Rebbe¹²: “From Rosh Chodesh Sivan Moshe began preparing the Jews for Matan Torah...”¹³

In the list of the Rebbe’s innovations brought in the beginning of the Hayom Yom, one from 5748 (1988) calls for the study of the maamar from Torah Or in Parshas Yisro, entitled Bachodesh Hashlishi, in the days leading up to Shavuos.

PREPARING EACH DAY

In a public letter the Rebbe writes¹⁴:

“In the third month of the Exodus of the Children of Israel from the Land of Egypt, on this very day”—a reference to Rosh Chodesh—“they came to the Desert of Sinai, and Israel encamped there”. The verse says, vayichan (literally, “and he encamped”) in the singular, as one man with one heart, to receive the Torah from Mount Sinai.

On the second day, they were told “And you shall be”—both a commandment and a guarantee—“unto Me a Kingdom of Kohanim, and a holy nation.” On the third day, they were told the command of hagboloh, to set boundaries, “Beware of the ascending the mountain etc.” On the fourth day, they were told the command of perishah, to separate—from the material and physical—“today and tomorrow” and to be prepared in these days for the Day of Receiving the Torah, the sixth of Sivan on which the Torah was given.

RECEIVING THE TORAH ANEW

“And these days are recalled and recurring” (as stated in the Megillah) every year anew, to the point that “accepting the Torah with joy and innerness” happens as if for the first time, literally.¹⁵

The concept of “recalled and recurring” (as stated with regard to Purim) applies also to the time of Matan Torah every single year—the Torah is given to us anew on a higher level than the year before. In order to properly accept the Torah this Shavuos, the preparatory days starting from Rosh Chodesh Sivan must also be observed in a manner similar to the original giving of the Torah. So in addition to an increase of Torah study during this time, wherein our preparation for the event mirrors the actual event to some extent, we must take steps, on a personal level, to ready ourselves in a manner comparable to how the Yidden did the first time.¹⁶

TOP TO-DO

“The main preparation necessary for accepting Torah is through actual learning,” the Rebbe says¹⁷ in 5748, “especially those halachos that apply to Yom Tov, including specifically the study of those parts of Torah that describe the greatness and wondrousness of Matan Torah. This includes sections of Nigleh (the revealed aspect of Torah)—for example, the sugya about the giving of the Torah in Meseches Shabbos; and also topics in ma’amorim of Chassidus, all of which heighten our yearning and desire to receive the Torah.”

MONDAY, 2 SIVAN, 46 DAYS OF THE OMER

YOM HAMEYUCHAS

“It is recorded in Torah sources,” the Rebbe says,¹⁸ “that the second day of Sivan received the unique title of Yom Hameyuchas, the Distinguished Day—or Yom Yichus, the Day of Pedigree—due to the fact that it was on the second of Sivan that the Jewish people received their special status, when Hashem told them, ‘You will be for Me a kingdom of Kohanim and a holy nation’ (Shemos 19:6). Let me say that although I conducted thorough research with much effort, I have not found (to date) in the writings of Chabad Chassidus any emphasis on the unique quality of this day.

“Nevertheless, since this matter is discussed openly in the writings of great Torah leaders of previous generations—and they were truly great leaders of the Jewish nation, who raised hundreds of thousands of Torah students, etc., and by whose light Jews walk until the end of time—it is appropriate to reveal and publicize (as part of our effort to increase in revealing new concepts in matters of Torah), with the addition of new insights, in the spirit of, ‘Give to a wise man, and he will become yet wiser’ (Mishlei 9:9).

“Moreover, the basic concept is stated in the Alter Rebbe’s Shulchan Aruch, at the concluding section of his laws of Shavuos (located at the end of the laws of Pesach).... Anyone studying these laws learns that Hashem told us, ‘You will be for Me a kingdom of Kohanim and a holy nation’ on the second of Sivan. The works referenced above, however, emphasize the unique quality of this day: because the Jewish people’s special status was first established on this day, the day itself became a meritorious date for the concept of pedigree—it is Yom Yichus, the Day of Pedigree—and beyond that, it achieved its own special status, becoming Yom Hameyuchas, the Distinguished Day.”

¹⁶ see Likkutei Sichos, vol. 38, p. 5. See also, among other places, the maamar entitled Anochi Hashem, 5749. In Footnote 36 there, it points out that we take note that a lengthy section of the Shulchan Aruch deals with what occurred on each day preceding Matan Torah. The Shulchan Aruch is a book that explains the halachos and their practical applications, which proves that the details of the original preparations are, in fact, an aspect of halachic practice to ready ourselves to receive the Torah anew.

¹⁷ Sefer Hasichos, vol. 2, p. 462

¹⁸ Reshimas Devarim Shabbos Parshas Bemidbar 5747

The Rebbe records that the Frierdiker Rebbe would consider each moment of the days leading up to Shavuos as extremely precious to be used to its fullest potential.

LEARNING TORAH

We best prepare ourselves for receiving the Torah by increasing our diligence in studying Torah. The Frierdiker Rebbe penned a letter in 5700 instructing the yeshivos to establish a seder of learning on Shavuos. On Shavuos 5710, the Rebbe called for learning and publicizing this letter.

THE FRIERDIKER REBBE'S LETTER:

In just a few days, we will merit—with the kindness of the Supernal One—to receive the “light, that it is good” (an allusion to the Torah, as our Sages state), “Good refers only to Torah.” (It will soon be) the luminous day, the festival of Shavuos, the time of the giving of the Torah! It is the holy Torah that was concealed and hidden away in Hashem’s treasure houses, and in which He delights each day! The Torah for which the supernal angels longed and craved, for which they pleaded with the Creator of the universe, clamoring, “Set Your Glory over the Heavens!” It is this holy Torah that our G-d, G-d of our forefathers, gave to us and to all Jews so that we study it for the sake of observing it!

Each festival is a remembrance to the original time and event at which Hashem established that date as a festival. For this reason, the Torah refers to the festivals as mo'adim, “established times”, as in the verse, “These are the mo'adim of Hashem, holy occasions, which you shall designate in their appointed time.”¹⁹ Each year, on the anniversary of the original date, the light that was revealed at the original event is again revealed and shines forth. Therefore, on Shavuos, the time of the giving of the Torah—these two luminous days that are Hashem’s appointed dates—the same lights and revelations that were revealed at the giving of the Torah are revealed anew. The souls that are in the lower and higher Gan Eden gather in the Supernal Academy. At the same time, all Jews—may they be distinguished for good life!—gather in synagogues and study halls to receive the holy Torah...

Whoever analyzes the approach of *Tosafos*²⁰ understands that Shavuos is a unique time of Divine favor. At that time (in the Heavenly Court), G-d disconcerts the Accuser of the Jewish people, just as He confuses him when the shofar is sounded on Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur.

The festival of Shavuos is the perfect time to do everything possible to advance one’s Torah study and one’s service of G-d with awe. Similarly, it is an appropriate time to repent for (failing to study) Torah, since (at that time) the accusing influence of Satan does not interfere—similar to the time of the sounding of the shofar on Rosh HaShanah and to the day of Yom Kippur.

THREE PREPARATORY DAYS

The three days prior to Shavuot commemorate the “days of making boundaries” that are a preparation for the giving of the Torah. In specific circumstances, certain restrictions of Sefirah are mitigated during these days; generally, the Chabad custom is to continue the mourning restrictions that apply throughout the Sefirah until erev Shavuot.

Haircuts: The Rebbe Rashab showed displeasure with those who cut their hair earlier than erev Shavuot. This is a stringency based on Kabbalah and is not (only) for reasons associated with mourning.²¹

Weddings: In earlier years, the Rebbe wouldn’t permit weddings before Shavuot. In later years, however, the Rebbe approved of weddings taking place during the three days prior to Shavuot.

Music, in the three days prior to Shavuot, is restricted to weddings and not permitted for personal musical entertainment. (A parallel to this are the musical Lag B’omer celebrations that are continued into the following night, although the mourning restrictions, including a ban on personal musical enjoyment, remain in full force.)

Shehechyanu: Restrictions on new clothes remain in force during this time.²²

SIMCHAS YOM TOV

We are commanded to be happy and cheerful on the festival of Shavuot, and each person must also bring joy to his wife and children and all his dependents. This is a biblical obligation. How is this accomplished? A husband should buy clothing or jewelry for his wife and treats (or at least *chassidische nosh*²³) for his children before Yom Tov.

Rambam states that “when one eats and drinks [on Yom Tov], he must also feed the convert, the orphan, and the widow, along with other poor and unfortunate people. One who bolts his doors and eats and drinks with his own wife and children, neglecting to feed the poor and the bitter of soul—he is not rejoicing in a mitzvah but rather in the satisfaction of his own stomach! Such a celebration is a disgrace!”

21) See the Hebrew footnote for references and a discussion on the matter.

22) Regarding a new garment in the three days preceding Shavuot: On the one hand, the established minhag to refrain from saying Shehechyanu is relatively new (although mention of it is found in earlier sources) and there are poskim who reject it as a restriction during Sefirah. However, those halachic authorities who propose it use quite specific language that enforces a Sefirah-long ban without an exception for the days leading to Shavuot. This is supported by those who reason that this practice is rooted in the concept of Sefirah as a time of misfortune that does not abate with the approach of the festival (as opposed to the aspect of public mourning, which is mitigated under certain circumstances). See Hebrew section for more details and for sources.

23) The Rebbe once commented regarding Pesach that an illustrated Haggadah for children can be considered chassidische nosh.

JOY THROUGH GIFTS

The Rebbe repeatedly encouraged us to provide those who are in need with all their Shavuos requirements—despite Shavuos not being an expensive Yom Tov. In this way, these individuals will be able to fulfill the mitzvah of vesamachta bechagecha, “You should rejoice in your festival,” (Devarim 16:14) personally, and with their families and dependents, by providing food and beverages for the men, clothes and ornaments for the women, and edible treats for the children. In this way, each individual will be able to experience the Yom Tov joy in fulfillment of the above mitzvah in a personally meaningful manner, which leads to complete joy. In fact, the obligation to feast and rejoice on Shavuos is greater than on other festivals, because our Sages stated that “it is agreed unanimously that on Shavuos we are also required to experience physical forms of delight...to demonstrate that this day is pleasing and well received by the Jewish people...as the date on which the Torah was given.”

THURSDAY, 5 SIVAN, 49 DAYS OF THE OMERErev Shavuos

We count the last of the Omer tonight, 49 days.

Today we learn Sotah 49, thereby completing our study of tractate Sotah that we have been studying, one daf a day, since the start of Sefirah.

TO DO, THEN HEAR

“Our main preparation to receive the Torah,” the Rebbe stated in 5749,²⁴ “is na’aseh venishmah—accepting to do what Hashem wants of us even before we understand the implications. This is done on the fifth of Sivan, the day prior to the sixth of Sivan when we receive the Torah. On this day, we should contemplate the concept of na’aseh venishmah in a manner that propels us to act accordingly: In all matters of Divine service our priority is to actually perform our duty and only then to work on understanding the matter intellectually. True, the fifth of Sivan is erev Yom Tov and we are preoccupied with Yom Tov preparations (when occurring on a weekday), but the (Friediker) Rebbe taught that on Shavuos, and by extension on erev Shavuos—a day that is similar to Shavuos itself—the yetzer hara does not have (the same) control. It is an opportune time to act for the good of Torah study, Divine service, and the like.”

STARTS TODAY

“On the fifth of Sivan,” the Rebbe said, “the Jews built an altar and offered sacrifices upon it. The Torah subsequently references the Tamid offering as ‘a continual burnt offering, as the one offered on Har Sinai,’²⁵ indicating that the offering at Har Sinai assumed the same status as sacrifices offered after the Giving of the Torah. The practical lesson that emerges from this remarkable fact is that the themes of the Giving of the Torah begin today, on erev Shavuos, for the spiritual realities that occurred in the past recur each year on the same dates.”²⁶

HAIRCUTS

It is a mitzvah to have hair cut before every Yom Tov, so as not to enter into Yom Tov unkempt.²⁷ The prohibition of haircutting on Chol Hamoed was instituted especially to compel people to receive a haircut prior to Yom Tov and not to postpone it.

The necessity of receiving a haircut on erev Shavuos is more acute, because haircutting was prohibited throughout Sefirah. The long hair accumulated over Sefirah causes a disheveled appearance, which is highly inappropriate for any Yom Tov.

Minhag Chabad is to take a haircut only on erev Shavuos (which includes the preceding night).

CUTTING NAILS

We uphold the mitzvah of trimming nails in honor of Yom Tov (despite the fact that Shabbos falls on the third day hence)²⁸.

BLOOD TESTS

Routine blood tests should not be performed on erev Shavuos. In his Shulchan Aruch, the Alter Rebbe notes a dispute among the poskim which specific procedures might be excluded in the prohibition of letting blood on erev Yom Tov. (This reference has led to leniencies related to blood tests on erev Pesach and erev Sukkos.) Erev Shavuos, however, is stricter in this regard, since it is the source of the prohibition, while the eve of the other festivals are restricted as a precaution so as not to differentiate between one erev Yom Tov and another. It is therefore recommended to refrain from blood tests altogether on erev Shavuos.²⁹

DAIRY FOOD PREP

The Sages instituted a restriction on baking dairy or meat bread (and if such bread was prepared, it cannot be consumed). This prohibition extends also to using a single oven to bake bread simultaneously with meat or dairy foods.³⁰

As the Shulchan Aruch states,³¹ "One must not knead dough with milk lest he mistakenly eat (the bread) with meat. However, it is permissible to produce a small quantity (of dough mixed with dairy), just enough to eat at once, or else alter the appearance of the bread (before baking) so that it is recognizable and will not (mistakenly) be eaten with meat." The Rema comments on this, "Accordingly, we are accustomed to bake bread kneaded with milk for the festival of Shavuos... for all this is considered a small quantity (that is to be eaten within a day). In addition, the shape (of the dairy bread prepared for Shavuos) is different from ordinary bread. Certainly, then, cheese pastries are permitted."

Therefore, any dairy bread baked for the second day of Yom Tov must consist of uniquely-shaped loaves. The dispensation for "small quantities that are eaten within a day" obviously does not apply.

It is permissible to bake sweet pastries that are dairy, since such desserts are not typically eaten together with meat.³² However, it is advisable, regardless, to label all dairy food storage containers as such, as a precaution against anyone mistakenly consuming them without the proper wait time.

29) The reasoning given for the practice is that there is concern of danger from letting blood and any restrictions based on danger are more severe. For a discussion on getting a vaccine on erev Shavuos, see #14994.

30) This does not apply to baking pareve bread in a milchig oven that is not presently baking dairy—or the same with a fleishig oven—even for those who are stringent and consider the resultant baked goods to take on the properties of the type of oven used. (See Hebrew footnote for sources and discussion.)

KOSHERING THE OVEN

The Alter Rebbe states³³ that those who are accustomed to bake dairy products for Shavuos must be careful when koshering their meat ovens (in which meaty juices and the like occasionally drip or splatter, and these juices are then absorbed into the oven walls)—the oven must be heated to the point that sparks fly from it and that the coals used for koshering are passed along all of its surfaces.³⁴

Nowadays, ovens are made of enamel, and there are divergent views about the halachic status of this material. Food is usually baked in trays as well, not directly on the inner surface of the oven as in former times. Accordingly, the oven walls generally absorb the steam of the food rather than the food itself. Therefore, many authorities are lenient and allow a lighter form of libun (heating until white-hot). Practically speaking, a modern oven is heated to its highest heat and left running at that temperature for a considerable length of time; this method can be relied upon for converting the oven from meat use to dairy. If the oven has a floor that separates the source of heat, the floor should be removed, if possible, so that the heat enters directly into the heart of the oven.

Some authorities are stringent about this type of koshering as they consider enamel a form of earthenware. Others are concerned that the oven door is glass, and glass cannot be koshered. Nevertheless, if the oven has a self-cleaning mode, we can rely on this self-cleaning process to kosher the oven without concern.

The Alter Rebbe raises an additional point: Be careful to use dairy implements to remove food from the newly converted oven, and not to use the usual tools which remain fleishig from previous use in the oven. The same applies to oven mitts—silicone cannot be used from meat to milk; fabric must first be machine-washed in hot water with soap.³⁵

KOSHERING ON YOM TOV

Note that koshering the oven on Yom Tov is problematic: The light libun that is performed on ovens nowadays generally requires the creation of a new source of fire, and it is therefore forbidden on Yom Tov.³⁶

33) There are countless details involved in converting ovens and stoves from meat use to dairy, but this is not the forum to delve into this at length. We will limit the discussion to details relevant to the Alter Rebbe's treatment of the matter in his laws of Shavuos.

34) According to halachah, complete libun is not necessary to convert a utensil from meat to dairy (since the meat is kosher, unlike the conversion of an oven used for non-kosher food); rather, hagalah or a lighter form of libun is sufficient. According to the Alter Rebbe, hagalah works even in a case where first meat and later milk were absorbed into the walls of a vessel without a koshering process in between. However, this case is different, because we are dealing with an oven made of earthenware. Such material cannot be purged without a full libun, and the source of the koshering fire must be within the oven itself and it's only effective if the oven regularly uses a source of fire that is located within.

35) See #7272.

36) As a general rule, it is forbidden to perform hagalah or libun during Yom Tov. That would be considered mesaken kli, equal to fixing a utensil on Yom Tov. This is true even if you wish to use the oven or utensil on that same day of Yom Tov for food preparation. However, you may perform libun on a metal pan in which

If you forget to kosher the oven before Yom Tov, it is technically permissible to heat up dairy foods in a meat oven if the pan is well covered and the oven rack is completely clean—because this is not a fundamental breach of halachah. In this case, it is recommended to cover the rack in pre-cut foil and double-wrap the food as well. But this workaround is not ideal for many reasons, and it is much better that the oven should be koshered before Yom Tov.³⁷

HEATING FOOD ON YOM TOV

If necessary, it will be permitted to heat up milchig foods on a fleishig blech or hot plate on Yom Tov, provided that the fleishig surface is perfectly clean of meaty foods and the dairy food is placed on a neutral layer such as pre-cut foil.

Pareve pastries or other foodstuffs that are reheated on top of a pot that contains fleishig, even a covered one, may not be consumed with milchig foods. If you wish to consume dairy immediately after eating something reheated in such a manner, you must ensure that the cover is tightly sealed during the heating process so there is no possibility of fleishig steam getting absorbed in the pareve food.³⁸

It is forbidden to cut foil off the roll on Yom Tov, even to an inexact size, since it falls under the prohibition of mesaken mana—creating a vessel.

FLOWERS

Flowers, plants, and trees have long been used to decorate shuls and homes in you previously cooked meat, so that you can now use it for a dairy product, because it does not appear to be mesaken kli; rather, you are warming the pan prior to using it for food, which is permitted on Yom Tov. This works only if you place the food into the pan immediately upon removing it from the source of fire used for libun. Once the pan has cooled down, however, if you then reheat it before putting the food in, it becomes clear that the first act was simply an act of libun, which is considered mesaken kli. In addition, this is permitted only when converting a pan from meat to dairy, because the pan requires only a light libun, which is similar to warming a pan for immediate use.

If the pan does not require libun or hagalah according to the strict letter of the law, but only due to a chumra (stringency), you may perform libun or hagalah on Yom Tov, even if you could have done so in advance of the festival. The reason for this is because, according to the law, the pan does not require koshering; therefore, the act cannot be considered mesaken kli, for you cannot rectify a utensil that does not essentially require rectification. However, with regard to ovens, employing libun to switch from meat to milk would require a new fire, as stated above, so koshering is still not possible.

To actually kosher an oven on Yom Tov, it must be lit from before Yom Tov and a kettle of pre-boiled water that has not cooled should be poured inside to produce a significant amount of steam. Water may not be heated on Yom Tov for this purpose—it must be available from before Yom Tov or have been boiled that day for the purpose of actual food preparation. (Although this is a very lenient form of koshering—since the oven is obviously not at its highest temperature for a true libun kal—it suffices for a meat to milk conversion for the reasons outlined above.)

37) See the footnotes in Hebrew section for the halachic sources regarding the limits of kashering back and forth between meat and dairy, and the exceptions made for Shavuot. See also #6441 and #6455. (Entries include a link to a comprehensive answer in the One-Minute Halachah #727.)

38) The reheated food that absorbs steam in this situation is considered absolute fleishig, and six hours must commence before eating dairy. See #6169

honor of Shavuot, as described in the Alter Rebbe's Shulchan Aruch, to recall the joy of Matan Torah and also to remind us to pray for the fruits of the trees whose fate is decided in Heaven each Shavuot. This custom is mentioned in Luach Kollel Chabad and was practiced in the shul in Nikolayev, but it is actually not the Chabad custom (in Chabad shuls).

Cut flowers in full bloom may be moved on Yom Tov, as long as there was prior intention to move them or you mentally designated them for a permissible purpose before Yom Tov. However, leaves or petals that shed on Yom Tov are muktzah.

Water may be added to the vase of fully-open blooms (those that are not stimulated to open by water), but its present water cannot be changed—this is only allowed on Yom Tov, not on Shabbos. Cut flowers in full bloom may also be added to a vase that was filled with water before Yom Tov. Great care must be exercised when moving a vase containing blooms that are stimulated to open while their stems are immersed; they must be moved extremely gently.

Plants (flowering or not) are muktzah on Shabbos and Yom Tov, and may not be moved at all. Those that have a scent may be smelled on Shabbos and Yom Tov, for that is a pleasure that would not necessarily cause a person to detach them from the earth. However, scented plants that are edible, and may be used in food preparation, may not be sniffed during Shabbos and Yom Tov.

The brachah on tree sprigs (such as hadassim) is borei atzei besamim; grass species receive the brachah borei isvei besamim.

EIRUV TAVSHILIN

An eiruv becomes necessary when Yom Tov occurs on Friday and Shabbos.

Don't forget! Many overlook this important requirement, causing themselves great difficulties. It is highly recommended to schedule a personal electronic reminder via cell phone, email, or other method.

Prepare an eiruv tavshilin as described below. (For more details, see the Alter Rebbe's Shulchan Aruch 527.)

Even if you do not intend to cook food for Shabbos during Yom Tov you must nevertheless prepare an eiruv tavshilin and recite the appropriate blessing over it in order to be permitted to light Shabbos candles while it is still Yom Tov.³⁹ Without an eiruv tavshilin, you may not light candles during Yom Tov for the sake of the approaching Shabbos.

If you are being hosted as a guest during Yom Tov, ask a Rav regarding the permissibility of relying on your host's eiruv tavshilin.⁴⁰

³⁹ All authorities concur with this law, as stated by Magen Avraham and the Alter Rebbe.

⁴⁰ We discussed this at length in B'asra D'rav, issue 2.

How do I establish an eiruv?

On erev Yom Tov, take: (1) a challah roll or matzah (the size of kebeitza, the volume that would fit into two small matchboxes), that is being set aside for Shabbos, and (2) a choshuv (presentable) prepared food such as fish or fowl (the size of kezayis, the volume that would fit into a small matchbox), and hand them both to a second person who will acquire the food on behalf of the entire community.

It is better that the second person not be a member of your own household. Even a non-family member who eats meals with you and is considered part of the family is preferable to an actual family member. You can also use your adult married son or daughter for this purpose, even if they still eat meals with your family. If no one but family members are available, you may designate your wife or an adult son or daughter who eats his or her meals at home with you.

When handing over the items, announce, "I hereby grant a share in this eiruv to whoever wishes to participate and depend on it."

אני מוזקה לכל-מי שרוצה לזכות ולקטוף על ערוב זה.

The second person acquires the food by raising it at least one tefach (3 to 3.5 inches). They then return it to you, and you recite the following:

(1) ברוך אתה א-דני א-להינו מלך העולם, אשר קדשנו במצוותיו, וצונו על מצות ערוב

Blessed ... Who has sanctified us with His commandments and commanded us concerning the mitzvah of eiruv

(2) Through this, it shall be permissible for us to bake, cook, preserve the heat of a container of food, kindle a light, prepare and do all that is necessary on the holiday for Shabbos, for us and for all the Jews who dwell in this city."

Those who understand Aramaic, recite in the original:

בדין יהי שרא לנא לאפויי ולבשולי ולאטמוני ולאדלוקי שרנא ולתקנא ולמעבד כל-צרכנא מיומא טבא לשבתא לנא ולכל-ישראל הדרים בעיר הזאת.

The Challa and cooked food are now set aside to be used as part of Seudas Shabbos.

Eiruv Issues

If you forget to make an eiruv tavshilin, you must ask your local Rav what to do.⁴¹

41) Although the Rav of the city makes an eiruv with the express intention of providing a backup for those who failed to make one due to extenuating circumstances (or made one and lost it), it also explicitly states that this loophole does not provide for someone who was intentionally lax in making one, and in this case, forgetfulness may be considered willful neglect (see the Alter Rebbe's Shulchan Aruch 527:14). You must ask your own Rav if their eiruv would cover for you under these circumstances.

If you remember about the eiruv tavshilin once Yom Tov has already begun, there are certain loopholes that may be employed so you can still cook for Shabbos—ask your Rav a sha'alah concerning this situation. However, bear in mind that lighting candles for Shabbos while it is still Yom Tov will pose a challenge,⁴² especially since in the modern age, candle lighting is an action expressly for the benefit of Shabbos as we rely primarily on electrical fixtures to provide illumination.

A HAKHEL EIRUV

On erev Rosh Hashanah and Simchas Torah of 5748, a Hakhel year (when both these Yomim Tovim were followed by Shabbos), the Rebbe spoke about the connection between an eiruv tavshilin and Hakhel.

We should refrain from washing our hands for a meal from the tenth hour of the day (4:33 pm).

PURIFICATION

“One should purify himself before Yom Tov.” This refers to going to the mikveh, in addition to other spiritual preparations. The intention while immersing should be to honor the upcoming festival, and drawing down the holiness of the upcoming days in a state of joy and good feeling. An individual who does not customarily immerse on erev Shabbos is nonetheless obligated to do so on erev Yom Tov.

SPIRITUAL PURIFICATION

“How are we meant to fulfill the obligation to ‘purify oneself?’” the Frieddiker Rebbe asks.⁴³ “With new clothes?! The intent with this instruction is the purification of the faculties of the soul, and the purification of one’s thoughts, speech, and actions.”

The Shelah states that this obligation is all the more meaningful before the festival of Shavuos, because the entire Jewish nation, men and women, immersed themselves at the command of Hashem in preparation for receiving the Torah. He notes that although the Zohar implies that the time to immerse is shortly before dawn on Shavuos morning after studying Torah the entire night (and this is the custom in Eretz Yisrael), we should also immerse before Yom Tov in order to enter the festival in a state of purity and to mirror our ancestors who immersed during the day, before sunset, on the eve of receiving the Torah at Mount Sinai.

LAW OF REDEMPTION: ALL PURE

The Rambam states that all Jews are expected to maintain a state of ritual purity for each festival, because they must be ready and fit to enter the Beis Hamikdash and to partake of the sacred sacrifices.⁴⁴

⁴²) See ibid., sec. 29

⁴³) Sichas Acharon shel Pesach 5701.

⁴⁴) The Rebbe explains this requirement at length in Likkutei Sichos, vol. 32, Parshas Shemini.

Out of caution for the severity of the laws of impurity, our Sages decreed that amei ha'aretz, those unfamiliar with the fine details of halachah, should be considered impure by default, unless there is reason to believe otherwise. During the Yomim Tovim, however, our Sages suspended their decree, so that all Jews are considered chaveirim, knowledgeable and scrupulous in halachah. All of their utensils, food, and liquids, are considered pure. This is because all Jews are accustomed to purify themselves and their possessions when they ascend to Yerushalayim on the Yomim Tovim. For that reason, when they insist that something is pure at any point during the festivals, their word is accepted.⁴⁵

All utensils found in Yerushalayim during the time of the Beis Hamikdash are considered pure. The exception is knives used for the korbanos; due the added severity of the laws of impurity surrounding the korbanos, our Sages decreed that we must know with certainty that a knife is pure before using it for a korban. However, the Sages suspended their decree for the duration of the Yomim Tovim, so that if one finds such a knife in Yerushalayim during a festival, it is considered pure and can even be used for the sacrifices.⁴⁶

Shtei Halechem: In the Beis Hamikdash, the two loaves for the Shavuos offering are baked on erev Shavuos—their preparation (and that of the lechem hapanim,⁴⁷ which would normally be baked on Friday) does not supersede the laws of Yom Tov.

Trumpetting: Does the practice of blowing additional trumpet sounds to signal the coming of Shabbos (and Pesach) in the times of the Beis Hamikdash to indicate the cessation of weekday activities also extend to erev Yom Tov? See sources in the Hebrew that outline the conflicting opinions in this regard.⁴⁸

Shabbos timers: Someone who is accustomed to setting timers in their home each erev Shabbos should bear in mind that they may need to be adjusted for the two full days of Yom Tov. Plan for those saying Tikun through the night on Shavuos who will spend time learning at home and men returning after a late Tahaluchah the next night.

TZEDAKAH

Give extra tzedakah on erev Yom Tov, for both days of the festival. Included in our tzedakah obligations is the duty to provide the needy with their Yom Tov requirements.

“We should give a lot more tzedakah on erev Shavuos, the day prior to our receiving the Torah, to the extent that we propel ourselves to an unprecedented

47) According to the rule of “between the regular (tadir) and the sporadic (eino tadir), the regular comes first”, the preparation of the lechem hapanim precedes that of the Shtei Halechem. See Hebrew footnote for more on this topic.

48) There is additional discussion blowing on erev Shabbos that falls on Yom Tov, as the second day does, this year in the entry for the afternoon of first day of Yom Tov.

degree of generosity.”⁴⁹

Prepping a Flame

It is forbidden to create a new flame during Yom Tov, but it is permissible to draw a flame from one that already exists. For that reason, it is necessary to prepare a flame that will remain lit from erev Yom Tov until it is needed to light the Yom Tov candles for the second night of Yom Tov. A candle that lasts 24 (or 48⁵⁰) hours or a gas flame is sufficient for this purpose.

Safety Alert: Fire safety organizations recommend that if you leave a gas burner lit over Yom Tov, make sure that a nearby window is open at least four inches and another window is open on the other side of the house to allow proper ventilation. Also ensure that smoke detectors and a carbon monoxide detector are present and active.

If you use liquid wax candles that are placed in small glass holders before being lit (called Neronim), it is recommended that you first place a small quantity of water⁵¹ or oil in the bottom of the glass holders on erev Yom Tov so that the metal disks (called wick tabs) will not stick to the base of the glass. It is problematic to remove the tabs on Yom Tov in preparation for candle lighting. (For more details on what may be done on Yom Tov itself, see the entry for the second night of Yom Tov below).

It is best to light a ner neshamah before Yom Tov for a yahrtzeit on Yom Tov (and also for those who customarily light them when saying Yizkor—though this is not the Chabad minhag), utilizing a 48- or 72-hour candle, since according to a number of opinions, it may not be lit on Yom Tov.⁵²

Check your pockets before sunset to avoid carrying any muktzah.

Candle lighting: The Yom Tov candles are lit before reciting the blessing, as is done before Shabbos. There are two blessings today: 1. Lehadlik ner shel yom tov and 2. Shehechyanu. Tonight’s candle lighting will be at 7:56 pm, which is eighteen minutes before sunset.

If you made a mistake in the brachah or omitted Shehechyanu, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

A man who lights the candles omits Shehechyanu because he will recite it during Kiddush later tonight.

49) maamar entitled Anochi 5749, Ch. 5

50) A 24-hour candle should be sufficient for lighting for the second day, but be aware that some votives marked as such do not necessarily last that long, and it is advisable to use a longer-lasting candle, if possible.

51) Although it is prohibited on erev Yom Tov to place enough water in the glass to cause the candle to extinguish earlier than it would on its own on Yom Tov, the minute amount necessary to prevent sticking is permitted.

52) If you did not light it before Yom Tov, you may do so in a more permissible way by kindling it with a pre-existing flame together with the Yom Tov candles at the table, where its light will enhance the Yom Tov meal, or in shul at the amud, where it will add light and honor to the shul.

If someone is running late, they may light the candles after Yom Tov has begun provided that the fire is taken from a pre-existing flame. Someone who forgot to light the gas burner or the like before the start of Yom Tov is permitted to ask a non-Jew to light it now.

Some are stringent to avoid using the Yom Tov candles for other purposes, such as to light a candle that is not being lit in honor of Yom Tov, or to light a gas burner.

THURSDAY NIGHT—1ST NIGHT OF SHAVUOS

Hillula of the Baal Shem Tov

Shavuos marks the yahrtzeit of the Baal Shem Tov.

Today's Hayom Yom records that "The Baal Shem Tov passed away on Wednesday, the first day of Shavuos, 5520 (1760) and is interred in Mezhibuz. The Alter Rebbe commented⁵³: 'On the fourth day the luminaries were taken away...'

THREE LEADERS

The Rebbe often discussed the association between Shavuos and the three shepherds of the Jewish people: Moshe Rabbeinu, Dovid Hamelech, and the Baal Shem Tov:

"As is known, Shavuos is associated with Moshe Rabbeinu, who received the Torah at Sinai, and with Dovid Hamelech and the Baal Shem Tov. For Shavuos marks the hillula (yahrtzeit) of *Dovid Hamelech*⁵⁴ ... and also of the hillula of the Baal Shem Tov. (In a way, we can consider Shavuos the hillula of Moshe Rabbeinu as well, because at the giving of the Torah, the souls of all Jews flew out of their bodies [when Hashem spoke the first two of the Ten Commandments], and they were then revived with the dew of Resurrection. This certainly occurred to every Jew without exception, young and old alike ... and even to Moshe Rabbeinu. Therefore, Moshe's soul left his body on this day as well, which is the concept of a hillula.)"⁵⁵

THE ALTER REBBE & SHAVUOS

The Alter Rebbe would particularly cherish the Yom Tov of Shavuos.

In 5703, the Frierdiker Rebbe stated,⁵⁶ "The Tzemach Tzedek recounted the following in the name of the Alter Rebbe, who heard it from his Rebbe, the Maggid of Mezritch: 'When we spent Shavuos with the Rebbe—the Baal Shem Tov—we experienced niftechu hashamayim va'ereh mar'os Elokim ('The heavens opened up and I saw visions of Hashem⁵⁷....

“The Alter Rebbe then commented on his own experience, ‘When we were with the Rebbe—the Maggid of Mezritch—for the Yom Tov of Shavuos, we saw and perceived (the same)...’

“The Berditchever was a great amkan (in-depth person). He once addressed a concept in nigleh and he prefaced it with the verse, ‘Hinei Hashem rocheiv al av kal’ (Behold, Hashem is riding on a light cloud).⁵⁸ He then proceeded to deliver seventy-two questions on this single concept, followed by one hundred and thirty responses. (The numerical value of av (עב) is 72, while the value of kal (קל) is 130.) The Alter Rebbe wrote a four-hundred-page record of this, but he subsequently commented that all of this revelation did not come close to what they saw when they were with their Rebbe on Shavuos.

“The Tzemach Tzedek elaborated on this thought: ‘This experience did not only occur by the Maggid, but with all of the Rebbeim. And it did not only occur in those times, but it occurs in each era. It is only that we are required to have keilim p’nimiyim, inner receptacles (to perceive it)...’”

BEGINNING ANEW

“On Rosh Hashanah, Hashem looks to examine and judge the deeds of all people,” the Shaloh writes in the name of the Toeles Yaakov, “as it is the day commemorating the original creation of the world and its new, continued existence—as we say (in the Rosh Hashanah davening), ‘Today is the day of the beginning of Your work...’ This is mirrored on Shavuos; as the day of the giving of the Torah, it signals another stage of renewal for the world and Hashem’s desire to examine and judge the world by its adherence to said precepts.”

The Rebbe further explains the connection above in relation to the verse which describes the Torah as “our life and the span of our days,” so our status on Shavuos influences the rest of the year, as a lifeforce influences a person in every detail and aspect.⁵⁹

ACCEPTING THE TORAH

“Accept the yoke of Torah!” instructs the Frieddiker Rebbe.⁶⁰ We should do so on the night of Shavuos both in our hearts and also verbally, declaring: “Ribono shel Olam! (Master of the Universe!) I hereby accept upon myself the yoke of Torah.”

The Frieddiker Rebbe continues,⁶¹ “Just as on Rosh Hashanah, each Jew must accept 57) Yechezkel 1:1. This is in the Haftorah of the first day of Shavuos.

58) Yeshayah 19:1

59) This idea is based on the adage that our celebration of Shavuos is a “good omen” for the entire year. The Rebbe points out, however, that we do not refer to it as a “head of the year” in this regard because the power of the Torah is completely higher than any physical reality and cannot be compared, even metaphorically, to the influence of the head on the body. See Roshei Devarim of Sichas Chag Hashavuos, 5729.

something new in his Divine service, so must a Jew take on something new in Torah study on Shavuos. For any Jew with even a bit of intellect...is suited to Torah study...and on Shavuos, each Jew must take this upon himself with a proper kabbalah (acceptance), with a vow, and with a true acceptance in the heart and not bli neder (a commitment which lacks the force of a vow). Truth be told, it is extremely difficult to use the term 'vow' in such a case, because there could always be—as they say in the language of this country (English)—'trouble'.. But at least, he must make kevi'us b'nefesh (an iron-clad resolution), with a true dedication to uphold his commitment to his addition in Torah study—regarding both his personal study as well as his giving of himself to study with other Jews—to strengthen the Torah by bringing others to study Torah as well.”

“The kabbolas ol (acceptance of the yoke of Heaven) of Shavuos,” explains the Frierdiker Rebbe,⁶² “is the yechidah of the etzem haneshamah (the core of the soul's essence). Through this, we perceive the light of the Torah. For it is entirely possible for a person to learn Torah even while the Torah teaches him nothing; it is also possible for the Torah to teach him, but the light of the Torah remains way beyond him....”

SHAVUOS & MOSHIACH

“It is stated in sefarim,⁶³” the Rebbe says,⁶⁴ “regarding the allusion in the words of our Sages that ‘all agree that on Shavuos we also need lachem’ (for yourselves—meaning that the festival is to be celebrated not only with prayer and the like, ‘for Hashem,’ but also with good food and the like, which is considered ‘for yourselves’). This can be understood to mean that it is an opportune time to pray for the hastening of the Redemption ... Our Sages use the term b'inan, ‘we need,’ which is also a term connoting prayer and beseeching, as in the phrase, ‘im tivayun be'ayu’ (If you will request, request)⁶⁵. The words nami lachem (נמי לכם), ‘also for yourselves,’ is the numerical value (190) of keitz (קץ), ‘the End’ of exile. Taken together, our Sages’ statement that ‘all agree that on Shavuos we also need for yourselves..’ can be read, ‘All agree that on Shavuos we pray for the keitz!’ It is a time to pray for the keitz hageulah, the keitz hayamim, and keitz hayamin!”

FIFTIETH DAY

Maariv is delayed until after tzeis hakochavim (nightfall) at 8:54 pm. The Torah requires us to count seven complete weeks. If Maariv were to be prayed earlier on the first night of Shavuos, the sanctity of the festival would have arrived and the last of the forty-nine days of the Sefirah would have been cut short.

MAARIV

Maariv begins with Shir hama'alos and includes the Amidah for shalosh regalim, reciting the passage, *es yom chag hashavuos hazeh, ves yom tov mikra kodesh hazeh, z'man matan toraseinu, mikra kodesh...*⁶⁶

If you accidentally recited a blessing (beginning or conclusion) of the weekday or Shabbos Amidah, or made other omissions or errors associated with the Amidah, see chart at the end of the booklet.

After concluding davening, we wish each other, “Gut Yom Tov!”

Kiddush Levanah is not said on Yom Tov night.

NIGHT SEUDAH

Kiddush for the first night of Shavuos may not be recited early, while it is still daylight.

The order of Kiddush tonight is: 1. Askinu seudasa (the Yom Tov version). 2. borei pri hagafen. 3. mekadeish yisrael vehaz'manim. 4. Shehechyanu.

A woman who recites Kiddush omits Shehechyanu because she already recited it during candle lighting.

If you erred in any of the details in reciting Kiddush, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

The eiruv tavshilin challah is used for lechem mishneh only on Shabbos, not during the meals of Yom Tov that precede it.

TALK ABOUT THE BAAL SHEM TOV

On the second day of Shavuos 5724, the Rebbe said: “The (Friediker) Rebbe stated that ‘it is the custom of our Rebbes to repeat a maamar (of the Baal Shem Tov) and to recount a story regarding the Baal Shem Tov during Shavuos.’ Although the (Friediker) Rebbe referred to this as ‘a custom of our Rebbes,’ nevertheless, that very fact that he reported it to us and made it available for publication indicates that it is proper for each Jew—all who hear about this custom—to similarly review a teaching of the Baal Shem Tov on each Shavuos, the anniversary of his hillula, and to recount a story about him.”

THE MEAL

Regarding the requirement of simchas Yom Tov during the meal,⁶⁷ see tomorrow’s entry for the first day of Shavuos.

Ya’aleh veyavo is included in Birchas Hamazon. Harachaman for Yom Tov is also added. If you forgot ya'aleh veyavo in Birchas Hamazon, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

CLEAN UP

May garbage be put out to the curb on Yom Tov? A full bag of kitchen leavings is generally not considered muktzah (on account of it being offensive and ruining the simchah of Yom Tov if left around). Nonetheless, there are those who are halachically stringent on account of carrying on Yom Tov,⁶⁸ given that there are generally ways to store the trash until after Yom Tov in a hygienic manner, and the purpose in taking it out is primarily to remove it from your property. Practically, if there is an issue of a stench that in any way inhibits your Yom Tov, or if there is insufficient storage for all the garbage that accumulates, it may be put to the curb. However, if it is already in bins out in the yard (assuming you don't establish your dwelling place in the yard, i.e. it isn't a lived-in space) and you merely want to take it out to the street to be collected, it is forbidden to do so on Yom Tov.⁶⁹

STAY AWAKE!

It is customary to remain awake all night studying Torah, particularly Torah sheba'al peh (the Oral Tradition, including Mishnah, Talmud, Midrash and Kabbalah). It is written that someone who remains awake in study the entire night of Shavuos is guaranteed to live through the coming year without suffering harm.

KESSER TORAH FOR THE SLEEPLESS

On Simchas Torah 5652, the Rebbe Rashab stated: "I own a handwritten manuscript of the Mitteler Rebbe in which he promises that whoever remains awake the entire night of Shavuos will merit kesser Torah (the crown of Torah). The Mitteler Rebbe was a posek (halachic authority)..." At that point, the Rebbe Rashab rose to his feet and declared, "Listen, all Jews! We must remain up on the night of Shavuos!" He then sat down and continued, "I mean it literally! We must remain awake; we simply cannot go to sleep!"

SAYING TIKKUN

The Chabad custom is to recite Tikkun leil Shavuos.

The Frierdiker Rebbe records that the Rebbe Rashab would begin reciting the Tikkun immediately after candle lighting as soon as Shavuos began. He would then interrupt for Maariv and the Yom Tov meal and resume after the conclusion of the meal.

68) The dispensation for carrying on Yom Tov applies primarily to foodstuffs and other items necessary for personal use.

69) See www.asktherav.com #21569

The tune employed for the recitation of the Aseres Hadibros is ta'am hatachton (lower notes, though be aware that many Tikkun books are printed with the higher notes), since it is said privately. It is our minhag to remain seated for this recitation.⁷⁰

The obligation to stay awake extends until time of alos hashachar (dawn) at 3:48 am.

Someone who did not complete the Tikkun at night should complete it the following day.

There are a number of corrections to the standard versions of the Tikkun. The Rebbe notes that the passage that concludes Sefer Yetzirah often appears as: נאמנת באמנת . . אחד בפה ואחד בלב בפנים. This ending doesn't make sense and is not a positive conclusion to the book. It should rather read:

נאמנת ג' רעות ללשון דיבור רע והמלשין והמדבר אחד בפה ואחד בלב ג' טובות ללשון שתיקה ושמירת הלשון ודיבור אמת.

The Rebbe further observes that Rashbi's teaching: 'אנן בחביבותא תליא מילתא דכתיב כו' is missing its third supporting verse and should read:

אנן בחביבותא תליא מילתא דכתיב ואהבת את ה' אלקיך וכתוב מאהבת ה' אתכם וכתוב אהבת אתכם אמר ה'.

When reciting the Torah sheba'al peh (Mishnah, Talmud, Midrash and Kabbalah) sections of the Tikkun, be sure not to mention Hashem's name in any incomplete pessukim.⁷¹

A REAL REVISION

The appropriate manner in which to recite the Tikkun, the Rebbe explained, is to read it as if its words were right now being transmitted to us from Hashem Himself in the most awe-inspiring Divine revelation, identical to the revelation at Mount Sinai—"with awe and fear, trembling and perspiration."

The Rebbe encourages us to explain this to whomever we are able to reach, so that every Jew is aware that at the very moment he recites the sacred words of the Tikkun, Hashem personally repeats the identical words along with him! With this awareness, the Tikkun must certainly be recited in an appropriate manner, with due awe and reverence.

The Rebbe insists that the proper preparation to Kabbalas Hatorah on Shavuos is not in-depth study, not even of Chassidus and p'nimiyus hatorah, as some mistakenly believe. Rather, it is simply reciting the Tikkun all the way through to its minyán hamitzvos, and to do so with the appropriate awareness, as described above. This is indeed the appropriate tikkun (rectification) for receiving the Torah.

⁷⁰) The same would apply when saying this portion for the weekly recitation of shnayim mikra v'echad targum. The reason we stand for the kriah with the congregation is because it mimics the position of the acceptance of the Torah by the Jewish nation at Har Sinai. When reciting the parshah privately, standing is permitted, but not required.

⁷¹) The same direction is mentioned with regard to reciting Pirkei Avos.

Reading the words silently is insufficient. Care must be taken to recite each word aloud, so that you can clearly hear what you are saying. Someone who is able to recite the words aloud but instead reads them with his mind has not fulfilled the obligation in a manner of “v’limadetem osam,” (you shall teach them).⁷²

Someone who recites selections from Torah shebichsav but is not sufficiently learned to comprehend the words he utters has nevertheless fulfilled the mitzvah of Torah study. This is not the case with selections from Torah sheba'al peh, for which he is not considered having studied at all if he does not comprehend the words he recites. Nevertheless, we are encouraged to busy ourselves with all words of Torah, even that which we cannot comprehend. In the Future Era, we will be granted the ability to fully comprehend the same teachings that we studied without understanding their meaning.⁷³

TIKKUN DISTRACTIONS

It is not appropriate to awaken someone who fell asleep in the midst of reciting Tikkun, unless you know that they would wish for you to do so. This is especially problematic with regards to your father— even in the case where you are certain he is amenable, it is better to ask someone else to wake him up.

The Baal Shem Tov instructed that special care be taken not to engage in idle talk from the onset of Shavuos until after reciting Kesser in the Kedushah of Musaf. (Needless to say, this does not suggest that we may engage in such chatter after Kesser.) The time for Tikkun leil Shavuos should certainly not be wasted in idle chatter, as we would thereby lose the benefit of having stayed awake.

MIKVEH

It is customary to immerse in a mikveh towards morning, just before the crack of dawn, which will occur at 3:48 am. It is customary to dip four times.

Luach Colel Chabad quotes the relevant teaching from the writings of the Arizal:⁷⁴ “Upon the approach of morning, slightly prior to the crack of dawn, while the eastern sky is yet darkened—for that is the moment of ayeles hashachar, as is known—one must then immerse in a mikveh. He must concentrate on the supernal mikveh, which is kesser elyon of zah (ze’ir anpin), for that is drawn down to him on this night, and it is referred to as the fiftieth gate, as we have written. Regarding him it is stated, 'I will sprinkle pure water upon you...'⁷⁵ Through this, we receive additional sanctity from this realm of kesser."

72) This concept was explained at length at the Kinus Torah of Shavuos 5775.

The immersion should be performed "approximately a quarter of an hour before the light of day"⁷⁶ or "approximately half an hour before the light of day."⁷⁷

EARLY MORNING SNACKS

Eating and drinking before Shacharis is forbidden according to Chazal. This applies once the time for Shacharis has arrived at dawn each morning. However, an individual who cannot concentrate on prayer without nourishment is permitted to eat and drink. This remains true nowadays, despite the fact that our powers of concentration remain relatively diminished regardless of nourishment; in addition, there is a well-publicized statement of the Rebbeim regarding the value of nourishing the body in preparation for prayer. Nevertheless, first recite the morning blessings and the full three paragraphs of Shema before eating or drinking in the morning.

There is another issue with eating before Shacharis from a Kabbalistic perspective, according to which food and drink at that time may empower the forces of klipah. The timeframe for this concern is a matter of dispute; it begins either at dawn or midnight. Here again, nourishment is permitted for the sake of health, concentration in prayer, and similar concerns. All opinions concur that the prohibition would not begin earlier than dawn for someone who did not sleep at night, or slept less than "sixty breaths."⁷⁸ The Rebbe quotes Eshel Avraham who states that eating is also permitted if awakening during the night with plans to go back to sleep before dawn. The statement of Eshel Avraham appears to imply that even if someone goes to sleep after dawn, they may eat and drink before sunrise.

BEDTIME SHEMA

What about the bedtime Shema? "There were certain nights in Lubavitch," says the Frierdiker Rebbe,⁷⁹ "during which we never recited krias shema she'al hamitah ... on the eve of Shavuos. As a rule, my father the Rebbe [Rashab] was accustomed to reciting krias shema on the approach to midnight, each night, even if he would lie down at a later hour—this was done without anyone noticing. On those nights, during which he would not recite krias shema she'al hamitah at all, as mentioned earlier, he would instead sometimes discuss the concept of krias shema, and at other times, he would discuss the meaning of the words of kri'as shema."

FRIDAY, 6 SIVAN—1ST DAY OF SHAVUOSDay of the Giving of the Torah*MORNING SHEMA

Reciting the Tikkun throughout Shavuos night does not exempt a person from reciting krias shema at the proper time in the morning. Plan a sleep schedule accordingly. To study the entire night and then fail to recite the morning Shema before its deadline would be completely counterproductive.

The time for the morning Shema begins at dawn, according to Torah law. As a precaution, Chazal delayed its time until the daylight is strong enough to recognize an acquaintance at a distance of four amos, because that is when the majority of people awaken. In extenuating circumstances, the Shema can therefore be recited from its biblically allotted time starting at dawn. The deadline for reciting Shema is at the end of the third halachic hour of the day.

The time for morning Shema begins at 4:31 am. (If there is no choice, it may be recited as early as 3:48 am.) The latest time for Shema is at 9:09 am.

Before going to sleep after studying the entire night, arrange for someone to wake you in time to recite the morning Shema and Shacharis, although it is not forbidden by halachah⁸⁰ to go to sleep even if there is no one to awaken you for this purpose.

As a precaution, it is worth reciting krias shema immediately after dawn, bearing in mind that if you do not have an opportunity to repeat the Shema in the ideal time established by Chazal (between 4:31 am and 9:09 am), you will have nevertheless fulfilled your obligation.

EARLY SHACHARIS

When faced with the option of remaining awake and praying Shacharis at sunrise, or going to sleep, the Rebbe favored the second option if sleeping would permit greater concentration during prayer. The Rebbe noted, however, that what works for one person will not necessarily work for another. Some feel invigorated after a brief nap, while others feel even groggier than before. The Frierdiker Rebbe related that the Rebbe Rashab would sometimes sleep first, although it is unclear whether this was his prevalent custom.

Our custom is to recite all the morning brachos as usual, including al netilas yadayim and Elokei neshamah (this is based on a secret—and unofficial—directive of the Frierdiker Rebbe), even having remained awake the entire night and having not changed clothing. Nevertheless, if possible, it is better to sleep a little before reciting the blessings. The only difference between someone who slept during the night and another who remained awake is that the former may recite these blessings after midnight, while the latter must wait until after dawn to recite these blessings. However, the brachah on tzitzis cannot be recited until the time of misheyakir, (4:31 am). See more on tzitzis below.

BIRCHAS HATORAH

It is essential that when the time arrives for morning brachos at dawn (3:48 am), you suspend all verbal enunciation on Torah topics until you say the brachah on the Torah.

When reciting the morning brachah on the Torah each day—and especially today, the day of the giving of the Torah—it is proper to contemplate the precious words of the Alter Rebbe in his *Shulchan Aruch*⁸¹: The Torah is Hashem’s precious vessel in which He takes delight every day, and should therefore be valued so highly by every individual that he recites its blessings with a joy that surpasses his joy over all the pleasures in the world. This shows that he engages in its study for its own sake, and will therefore merit a chain (of descendants apropos) to one who learns for its own sake, as it is written, “It will not depart from your mouth nor from the mouth of your descendants.” Through this will come the fulfillment of the request in the brachah itself: “that we and our descendants (be those who know Your name...)”.

The Bach writes⁸² with regard to the meaning of birchas hatorah: Our engagement with Torah causes the unity of our neshamah with the essence, spirituality and the holiness of the Torah’s original source. It is for this reason that Hashem gave the Jewish nation the Torah of Truth as a gift—so it will not be forgotten, connecting our neshamos and bodies with its 248 limbs and 365 sinews—through the via the 248 positive and 365 negative mitzvos of the Torah. If we would learn Torah with this intention, these become a vehicle and a chamber for Hashem’s shechinah, to the point that it is literally inside us, as a place where His presence lives and the entire world would shine with His glory. This creates a connection between the supernal and earthly beings so they unite in one dwelling... We begin with engaging in Torah and blessing Hashem, thanking Him for giving the Torah to the Jewish people so that we can attach ourselves to its holiness and Hashem’s shechinah. This is the intent in the brachah, that He chose us and brought us close to Har Sinai and gave us His holy Torah, which is His precious vessel that He takes delight in every day, so that we may connect our souls to the essence of the Torah’s holiness and spirituality, and bring the Shechinah down amongst us.

TZITZIS

The blessing over the tzitzis may not be recited if the same pair of tzitzis was

81) 47:1

82) The Rebbe refers to this source in many places (see Hebrew footnote for details and sources), calling these words of the Bach wondrous and a call to learn pnimius hatorah; also that, “similar ideas found only in Chassidus”; and once: “Would we not have a clear source in the Bach, we’d assume these are words composed by a Chassidishe Rebbe.”

worn throughout the night and has not been changed from the previous morning. It is best to recite the blessing over another pair, and thereby exempt the original pair from a blessing.

For those that daven Shacharis early in the morning, the earliest time to make a brachah on the tallis is at 4:31 am. The Amidah should be scheduled to begin only after sunrise at 5:31 am.

KORBANOS

The liturgy of the Eizehu mekoman section of the daily Korbanos mentions the offering of “communal Shelamim”. It refers to a korban that is actually brought only once a year—the two “Atzeres sheep” offered on Shavuos (today) together with the Shtei Halechem. (This section also mentions the less unique designations of the communal Chatas, the goats offered for Yom Tov and Rosh Chodesh—details of these will be discussed further, in the entry for davening.)

SHACHARIS

It is a mitzvas ase (Biblical obligation) to recall the giving of the Torah at Har Sinai each day. It is appropriate to fulfill this while reciting the blessings preceding the morning Shema, so that when we recite the words uvenu vacharta (“You chose us”), we think about the giving of the Torah, and when we reach the word v’keiravtanu (“You drew us close”), we recall the revelation at Har Sinai.⁸³

During Shacharis, the Amidah for shalosh regalim is followed by the complete Hallel.⁸⁴

HALLEL

It is a Rabbinic mitzvah established by an institution of the Prophets to recite the complete Hallel on each of the three festivals, during the daytime, and to recite a blessing beforehand—asher kiddishanu...likro es hahallel (...Who commanded us to read the Hallel). Do not interrupt the recital of the (complete) Hallel, except for those matters for which it is permissible to interrupt during the recital of the blessings before the Shema.

The best way to fulfill the mitzvah of reciting Hallel is to recite it together with the congregation, immediately after the Amidah of Shacharis. That way, the verses of Hodu and Ana Hashem can be recited in response to the chazzan.

In Igros Kodesh, the Rebbe mentions the case of an individual who enters shul in order to begin Shacharis and discovers that the congregation has already recited the Amidah and is poised to begin Hallel. The Rebbe states, “I never heard ⁸³ See footnote in Hebrew version for references and insights.

⁸⁴ In his Shulchan Aruch, the Alter Rebbe mentions a custom of distributing spices among the congregants in shul on Shavuos. He warns against doing so from the start of Baruch She’amar until after the Amidah. However, as far as can be determined, this is no longer an existing custom.

an explicit directive regarding reciting Hallel before one has recited Shacharis. According to oral tradition among the Chassidim, however, despite the fact that our Rebbeim would extend their Shabbos prayers over many hours—long after the congregation had concluded the service—they would nevertheless organize their time on Yom Tov so that they would conclude the Amidah with the congregation and then recite Hallel together with them.

If you did not recite Hallel immediately after the Amidah, it may be recited anytime during the day prior to tzeis hakochavim.

According to some halachic opinions, if even a single word of Hallel is omitted, it should be repeated—this is in fact the proper practice. When saying it again, do not say another brachah. However, if you said only half-Hallel (as on Rosh Chodesh and the second half of Pesach) you say Hallel in its entirety again, and you do repeat the brachos (provided you already said the concluding brachah as well).

Hallel is followed by Kaddish Shalem, Shir shel Yom, and Kaddish Yasom.

KRIAS HATORAH

When the aron is opened for the reading of the Torah, Vayihi binso'a is recited, followed by the Yud-gimmel Midos Harachamim, Ribbono shel Olam and Brich sh'mei; two sifrei Torah are removed.

Akdamus (the liturgical Shavuot poem): The Alter Rebbe's Shulchan Aruch states that where there is no particular custom, Akdamus should be recited before reading the Torah, before the Kohen recites his opening blessing over his aliyah. Akdamus was thus recited in many communities that follow the Alter Rebbe's opinions, as well as in the city of Yekaterinoslav (now known as Dnepropetrovsk). However, in Hayom Yom and Sefer Haminhagim, the Rebbe states that we do not recite Akdamus.⁸⁵

Five aliyos are read in the first scroll from Parshas Yisro (from Bachodesh hash'lishi until the end of the sedrah), which discuss the events surrounding the giving of the Torah.

ASERES HADIBROS

During the Aseres Hadibros, the entire congregation stands facing the Torah. The Aseres Hadibros are read according to ta'am ha'elyon (higher notes), whereby all the verses are split into ten sections, with each section containing one of the ten dibros; since the dibros were given on this day, we read it in a manner similar to the way they were said when the Torah was given. The common custom is to always read it publicly in this manner, even on Shabbos Parshas Yisro and Shabbos Parshas Va'eschanan; the ta'am hatachton (lower notes) is only used while reading in private.

⁸⁵ At the Rebbe's Shavuot meal, on the first night of Shavuot 5727, a discussion took place regarding the Rebbe's personal custom in this matter.

In Hayom Yom, it is noted that, in 5740, the Rebbe called for all children including tiny infants to come to shul on Shavuos to hear the Aseres Hadibros. In Likkutei Sichos, the Rebbe instructs⁸⁶: “As mentioned many times before based on the teaching of Chazal, ‘Hashem says to the Jewish people, “My children! Read this Torah portion each year and I will consider as if you are standing before Mount Sinai and receiving the Torah.” Just as the Aseres Hadibros were originally delivered in the presence of the entire Jewish nation, men, women, children, and even the extremely young, it is worth the effort to ensure that when this portion is read on the festival of the giving of the Torah each year, all Jewish people, even its very youngest members are present in shul, at least during the reading of the *Aseres Hadibros. We should recall that the Torah was given in merit of the Jewish people offering their children as guarantors.” (In many sichos, the Rebbe discusses bringing children from the age of one month and upwards, or even younger, if their health allows for it.)

COME GET THE TORAH!

The Frierdiker Rebbe recalls⁸⁷ Shavuos when he was five years old: “On erev Shavuos that year (5645/1885), our melamed told us that the Torah says that Moshe Rabbeinu led the Yidden to Matan Torah (‘likras ha’Elokim). ‘Kinderlach!’ the melamed says to us. ‘Come, and I will lead you to Matan Torah...tomorrow, the first day of Shavuos in the morning, let us all rise one hour earlier than usual and go the beis midrash to accept the Torah.’”

Kids’ Minyan: Those who wish to organize an Aseres Hadibros reading especially for children outside the main minyan must ensure that the reading includes at least six male participants who have not yet heard the leining.⁸⁸ Someone who will participate in such a pop-up minyan cannot listen to the main reading with the intention to be retroactively yotzeh only if they fail to raise the necessary six at the later time.⁸⁹

HAFTORAH & MAFTIR

Following the first reading, the second Torah is then placed on the bimah beside the first, so as not to leave a void between the presence of the first and second Torah. However, the second Torah is only unwrapped after the first is all rolled up, so that those occupied with caring for the first Torah should be able to focus on the second reading (and leaving the second Torah undressed until they are ready would be disrespectful to the Torah).

Kaddish is recited. After hagbah on the first Torah, Maftir from Parshas Pinchas (Uv’yom habikkurim), which describes the offerings of the festival of Shavuos, is read from the second Torah.

For the Haftorah, we read Ma'aseh Merkavah from Yechezkel, because Hashem appeared to us at Mount Sinai accompanied by myriads of angels. It is customary to conclude with the verse, Vatisa'eini ru'ach, although it is not written in the same section as Ma'aseh Merkavah. In some communities, a chacham and gadol is called upon to read this Haftorah. Some are accustomed to reading it while standing, not only the person who reads the Haftorah, but all who read quietly with him also remain standing out of reverence for its content.

SO LOFTY!

“Why was the Haftorah that describes the Merkavah (Divine chariot) chosen for Shavuot, when most people do not understand its contents?” the Rebbe asks.⁹⁰ “Because although the details presented in the Haftorah are not comprehended, each Jew is able to understand the overall theme of the Haftorah—namely, that all of these details envisioned by Yechezkel were images that allowed him to perceive and recognize supernal realities.”

MUSAF

The Amidah of shalosh regalim is recited for Musaf. Following the nussach of the Alter Rebbe,⁹¹ it is the Chabad custom to recite U'shnei se'eirim l'chaper during Musaf, corresponding to the additional goat that was offered on Shavuot accompanying the Shtei Halechem (two-loaf offering).⁹²

If you made a mistake in the Amidah of Musaf, see the chart at the back of the booklet.

Birchas Kohanim is recited at the end of Musaf. Listen with intention, and only say “Amen” once all the Kohanim have concluded the brachah.⁹³ You must face the duchan (stage or area where the Kohanim stand)—do not turn sideways or back. Someone who stands behind the duchan is not included in their blessing. While they recite it, the congregation should move their heads in the following sequence: When the Kohanim say Yivarechacha, the head remains erect; Hashem, lean head to the right; veyishmerecha, head erect. Ya'eir, lean head to left. And so on, for the remaining eleven words of the blessing.

Recite the Ribono shel Olam prayer only while the Kohanim are singing, but not when they pronounce the actual words. At that point, you must remain silent and listen carefully. The prayer is split into three parts: While the Kohanim sing before the word “v'yaseim,” recite from Ribono until hatzaddik. While they sing before “lecha,” recite from ve'im until Elisha. While they sing for “shalom,” recite from u'kesheim until letovah. Then, as they pronounce shalom, recite the three final words v'sishmereini, etc. Once the Kohanim conclude shalom, say "amein," followed by Adir bamarom, while still covered by the tallis.

Those who have the custom of saying "Yasher Koach" to the Kohanim should not do so until the end of the Kaddish tiskabel following Birchas Kohanim. Where this custom is prevalent, the Kohanim should not step down from the duchan until Kaddish is concluded, so they can properly respond to Amen.

The shesh zechiros (six Remembrances) are recited following Musaf.

"Mazel tov!" was the customary greeting on Shavuos among the first generations of Chassidim. At first, they would wish each other mazel tov at the reading of the Torah. However, because it is stated in sefarim that this constitutes an interruption, they started wishing each other mazel tov after the reading of the Torah. Eventually, it was moved to after the conclusion of the prayer service. "I remember elders in the town of Lubavitch who would announce 'mazel tov' on the festival of Shavuos," recalls the Frierdiker Rebbe.⁹⁴

LAW OF REDEMPTION: ALL THE OFFERINGS

The time for Bikurim is between Shavuos and Chanukah; they are not brought before the festival.⁹⁵ On the holiday itself, there are different opinions in the Rishonim as to whether it is permissible to bring Bikurim.⁹⁶

Korbanos of the holiday: In addition to the individual korbanos that everyone had to bring (olas r'iyah, shalmei chagiga, and shalmei simcha), communal korbanos are brought for the holiday. This communal Korban Musaf includes: two cows, one ram, and seven lambs for an Olah, and a goat for a Chatas, as detailed in Parshas Pinchas. In addition, a Korban Minchah Chadashah is brought on Shavuos which consists of two loaves of bread from the new wheat called Shtei Halechem. Offered with the bread were seven unblemished lambs, one ox, two rams for an Olah, a goat for a Chatas, and two lambs for Shlamim, as detailed in Parshas Emor.

Altogether, twenty-four animals are offered in honor of Shavuos, thirteen of which accompany the Shtei Halechem, while the other eleven comprise the Musaf offering. These correspond to the twenty-four books of Torah, Nevi'im, and Kesuvim (thirteen of Torah and Nevi'im, and eleven of Kesuvim.) These are also representative of the traditional twenty-four adornments of a bride, of which thirteen are gold and silver, and the remaining eleven are types of clothing.

SEUDAS YOM TOV

On Shavuos we must eat and rejoice on the day that the Torah was given to show that the Jewish people welcome and enjoy the day on which they received the Torah. Hence, it is forbidden to fast for ta'anis chalom (a bad dream) on Shavuos, although it is permitted on every other Yom Tov and even on Shabbos.⁹⁷

When reciting Kiddush, we say Askinu se'udasa for Yom Tov, and then Eileh mo'adei and borei pri hagafen.

DAIRY MEAL

It is customary in all Jewish communities to eat milk products on the first day of Shavuos. A Jewish custom is considered Torah, especially as in this case, many insights into the custom have been given. The custom to eat a milchig meal on Shavuos does not override the obligation of eating meat on Yom Tov. The former is a custom, while the latter is a mitzvah. We therefore eat both.⁹⁸

Care must be taken to avoid the prohibition of mixing meat and milk, and that all of the appropriate laws are observed. We are not permitted to eat dairy and meat products in the same meal even if we wait the necessary time in between courses. Therefore, a brachah acharonah on the milchig foods must be recited before washing for the fleishig meal.

Many fulfill the custom of eating dairy foods with a milchig kiddush of cheesecake before waiting some time and then washing for a fleishig meal. When making Kiddush with the intention to be yotzeh the seudah with mezonos instead of the usual lechem mishnah, these mezonos foods should be covered—some halachic authorities even suggest having two whole pastries for this purpose.⁹⁹

Additionally, the person who makes Kiddush should be sure to drink a full revis (over three ounces) of wine, to avoid any doubt over the addition of al hagefen in bentching at the end of this kiddush.

Fish & Milk: If serving fish at the dairy meal, precautionary measures must be taken not to consume undiluted milk or cheese directly with the fish, based on the instruction found in Beis Yosef on this matter. However, it is permitted to partake of them together if an additional dairy byproduct, such as butter or cream, is added to the mix.¹⁰⁰

If you neglected to recite Shehechiyanu on the first night of Shavuos, recite the blessing today whenever you remember your omission.

⁹⁷ The Rebbe explains this at length in Likkutei Sichos, vol. 23.

⁹⁸ The Alter Rebbe simply notes that there are numerous reasons for eating milk products. The Rema, for example, traces this custom to the Shtei Halechem, two breads that were offered only on Shavuos, which imply two meals for which we need to wash and eat bread separately; the bread used in a milchig meal may not be used for a fleishig meal. (Although we are now accustomed to merely eating mezonos at the milchig meal, the mezonos is also considered bread for this purpose.)

SEUDAS MITZVAH TIMES A MILLION

“Although the Shavuos meal is a Yom Tov meal,” clarifies the Frierdiker Rebbe,¹⁰¹ “it is mainly a seudas mitzvah...it is a seudah of kabbolas hatorah v’hamitzvah. If, when we bring even a single Jewish child into the bris of Avraham Avinu or into Cheder, the accompanying meal is considered a seudas mitzvah; certainly when six hundred thousand men of military age, in addition to the elderly, the womenfolk, and the children, are brought by Hashem into Cheder to recite ‘kamatz alef ah’—as stated in the verse, ‘The King brought me to His chambers (cheder); we will rejoice and be glad in You!’ (Shir Hashirim 1:4)... ‘We will rejoice and be glad in You (בך)’ meaning the twenty-two (כ"ב, the same letters as בך) letters of the Torah; the first letter that Hashem spoke was kamatz-alef of the word “Anochi” (I am). Therefore the meal of Shavuos is first and foremost a seudas mitzvah, in addition to its serving as a seudas Yom Tov.”

BRACHOS ON DRINKS

If the dairy meal is being eaten where Kiddush was made, the wine you drank for Kiddush will cover all subsequent Shehakol drinks physically present at the time or that you had in mind to drink.¹⁰² This applies to the person who made Kiddush, and also to anyone who partook of the wine, even a small sip. Someone who was yotzeh Kiddush, but did not drink wine and did not wash for hamotzi, must make Shehakol on whatever they drink.

When saying the after-brachah of al hagefen, all Shehakol drinks are included. This applies whether the initial drink was covered by the borei pri hagafen or not (for example, if they made a brachah on another drink they had not intended to have while drinking the wine). However, as stated earlier, an al hagefen is said on a reviis, so an individual who was yotzeh Kiddush with just a sip of wine will make a borei nefashos after all their subsequent drinks.

BETWEEN MILK AND MEAT

It is our custom to wait one hour between milk and meat. This spans the time from finishing milchigs to beginning eating fleishigs, so washing can still commence soon after concluding the dairy meal.

Of course, we should use this opportunity to educate our children to wait between eating dairy and meat, each according to their age.

A sharp food such as an onion, radish, lemon, or garlic clove¹⁰³ that was chopped with a fleishig knife or blender,¹⁰⁴ even in the case where the utensil is not ben yomo (meaning that it was not used for a hot meat product during the last twenty-four hours), may not be used with milk or milk products. The same

103) and in many regards, somewhat sharp foods such as pickles

104) Some are stringent even if a fleishig cutting board was used applies also in reverse: sharp food that was cut with a milchig knife cannot be eaten with meat. In the latter case, according to many opinions, the food cannot be eaten even within the six hour period following the eating of meat.¹⁰⁵ Naturally, it is best to keep a pareve knife and cutting board for just such purposes.

IS IT 6-HOUR CHEESE?

American cheese can certainly be considered one-hour cheese. We may need to wait six hours for other hard cheeses, such as Parmesan cheese, since their taste lingers for a considerable time.

Among the halachic authorities, there are multiple possible criteria for which cheeses require a six-hour wait, such as: cheese that has cured for six months or more; cheese that has developed worms; cheese that has been stored in rennet long enough to become sharp and hard; cheese that is extremely fatty with a taste that lingers for a long time. There are some poskim who require waiting one hour for each month it takes to produce the cheese.

Modern cheese production has changed the curing process drastically, and this further varies halachic rulings. For our purposes, we will cite the Yad Yehuda who posits¹⁰⁶ that we need not be concerned of the possible “six-hour” status of cheese that is melted, and it requires only a one-hour wait. Thus, with regard to modern cheeses which are melted (aside from those aged for six months or more), there is room for leniency.

CHEESECAKE & OTHER MEZONOS

The brachah on cheesecake that has even a thin crust is mezonos, provided that the purpose of the dough is to enhance its flavor. The question is whether an al hamichya can be recited if the crust itself is not a full kezayis.¹⁰⁷ In this case, the amount necessary is determined to be one-sixth of the total kezayis volume.¹⁰⁸ If you are not sure that this requirement is fulfilled, take another piece of mezonos and also another food that calls for a borei nefashos and subsequently recite both brachos acharonos. (Note that if you had a reviis of wine, as explained above, a shehakol food and not a shehakol drink would be required for this purpose.)

Aside for the above consideration concerning an after-blessing, it is necessary to eat a kezayis of mezonos or to drink a full reviis of wine in addition to the wine drunk at Kiddush (at least lechatchilah). Kiddush is followed immediately by washing for a bread meal—or the meal must be substituted by these quantities of mezonos or wine.

¹⁰⁵ This stringency does not apply in reverse, i.e. if you drank milk, you may eat a sharp food that was cut with a fleishig knife. Also, after eating a sharp food cut with a meat knife, you may subsequently drink milk.

¹⁰⁶ Yoreh Deah 69

¹⁰⁷ A kezayis is a measurement of volume—the amount that fits into a small matchbox.

¹⁰⁸ See One-Minute Halachah #493 at www.halacha2go.com. Also www.asktherav.com #6843 and #4393 (in Hebrew).

AFTER-BRACHAH ON WINE & CAKE

If you drank a reviis of wine and ate a kezayis of mezonos (including cheesecake that is at least one-sixth crust), the Me'ein Shalosh brachah is recited at the end of the meal, with the wording that includes both: al hamichyah v'al hakalkalah and v'al hagefen v'al pri hagefen. If you drank less than a reviis of wine, but ate more than a kezayis of mezonos, only al hamichyah is said—and vice versa.

For someone who drank more than a kezayis (approximately 0.6 to 1 ounce) but less than a reviis of wine, there is no halachic consensus whether the al hagefen brachah must be said—and because the rule is that we are lenient when it comes to making brachos (lest we say Hashem's name in vain), Me'ein Shalosh is not recited. However, if a kezayis of mezonos was also consumed at the meal, al hagefen should be added as well, even though only a kezayis of wine was consumed.

If the volume needed for an after-brachah on both cake and wine were consumed, but mistakenly only al hamichyah was said, it is questionable whether Me'ein Shalosh should be repeated. In this case, drink another reviis of wine or grape juice and make an al hagefen. Alternatively, you can ask another diner to have you in mind in their brachah acharonah.

In the brachah of Me'ein Shalosh, add for Shavuos: vezachreinu letovah b'yom chag hashvuos hazeh. If you forgot, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

A brachah acharonah must be recited on the milchig meal before washing for the second meal. If you forgot the after-blessing, it should be made during the next meal. If Birchas Hamazon was already said, al hamichya is no longer required, but borei nefashos, if necessary, should still be recited.

When eating mezonos at the milchig meal, take care not to be kove'ah seudah (eat such a large amount that it equals a satisfying bread-meal) otherwise you may be required to recite Birchas Hamazon.¹⁰⁹ A quantity of baked mezonos equalling four beitzim (the volume of four average-sized eggs) that satiates you (even if the fullness is a result of the baked goods plus other foods combined), obligates Birchas Hamazon according to the biblical requirement.

THE MEAT MEAL

A Kiddush cup used at the milchig meal should not be used again at the fleishig meal in case any dairy residue remains on the cup.

A latecomer to a Yom Tov meal who discovers that the people have already finished their dairy foods and are now eating their fleishig meal—whereas they still need to eat dairy in honor of Shavuos—should not proceed to eat dairy food on the same tablecloth as those eating their meat meal. There must be distinct tablecloths for meat and for dairy.

¹⁰⁹ See Seder Birchas Hanehenin, Chapter 2

Joy is the main mitzvah of the festival; all day we are required to be in an uplifted, joyous mood, not merely in specific matters such as drinking wine and eating meat, but in all matters—and in every capacity. Any type of pleasure-inducing activity that is appropriate should be exercised: eating, drinking, strolling, or whatever specifically brings a person joy. A person who engages in an act that brings on sadness or depression has transgressed the mitzvah of “be joyous on your festivals”, no matter how highly involved they were in happy things the rest of the day.

The obligation of oneg Yom Tov means drinking wine during each Yom Tov meal, if the individual can afford it, and having plenty of meat, wine, and delicacies, according to their means. To fulfill the obligation of rejoicing on Yom Tov, men must drink a revi'is of wine. This requirement may be satisfied through drinking the wine of Kiddush. The Friediker Rebbe was accustomed to drinking a revi'is of wine at each Yom Tov meal. Children should be given foods they enjoy to help them rejoice on Yom Tov.

Although rejoicing on Yom Tov is a biblical obligation, there is no dispensation to get drunk. In fact, the Rambam specifically warns against overdoing the obligation of drinking wine on Yom Tov.

Avoid eating a seudah after the tenth halachic hour of the day (4:34 pm), in order to be able to enjoy the Yom Tov meal on the second night of Shavuot. However, if you have not yet eaten seudas Yom Tov for some reason, you may do so even after this time.

LAW OF REDEMPTION: MEAT OF REJOICING

The meat of the Shelamim (peace-offering) is eaten in fulfillment of the Torah's obligation to rejoice in the festival. In Likkutei Sichos, the Rebbe explains¹¹⁰ that according to the Alter Rebbe, the ikar mitzvah, the primary instrument of rejoicing in the festival (for men) is accomplished through eating the meat of the Korban Shelamim. This is not merely a physical feast, but it is mainly the joy of a mitzvah. It is the consuming of the holy sacrifices, whereby the person absorbs actual sanctity in a tangible manner.

(Incidentally, the halachic authorities debate whether this mitzvah involves only the act of eating, or also the offering of specific parts that is performed prior to the eating. It is the opinion of the Tzelach that there is one mitzvah to offer a Shelamim at least once during the festival, and a second mitzvah to partake of the meat during the festival.)

Here is an overview of some of the laws pertaining to eating the sacrificial meat on Yom Tov (without details pertaining to ritual slaughter, offering on the altar, or preparing the sacrificial meat).¹¹¹

110) Likkutei Sichos, vol. 33, p. 62ff. See the Rebbe's discussion at length.

111) This is not an exhaustive treatment, nor does it present the plethora of opinions on many of its details that are sometimes the subject of polar opposite views among poskim. (Let Eliyahu Hanavi come and resolve all halachic disputes, and bring Moshe and Aharon with him to teach us!) When applicable, these laws reflect the opinions quoted in the writings of our Rebbeim.

Stay Pure

As mentioned earlier, everyone is obligated to purify themselves in advance of the festival. According to some opinions, people would avoid entering a home in Yerushalayim during the festival for fear of contracting tum'asoheh—ritual impurity received when coming under the same roof as a corpse or its contaminants—and they would simply sleep in the streets. We could perhaps counter this with the argument that since everyone is obligated to purify themselves in advance of the festival, this should not be a concern. In any case, it is clear that caution must be taken to avoid entering a home in which there is a real concern of impurity.

If a utensil that was under the same roof as a corpse is discovered in a home, even in a building several stories high, do not remain in that building. Similarly, do not touch a chair or bed that has not been ascertained to be free of niddah-impurity or the like. However, a plastic chair or rubber mat and the like may be used without fear, and food that has not become huchshar (halachically susceptible) to tumah may be eaten without concern.

The Sages decreed, as an extra precaution, to avoid partaking of sacrificial meat without first immersing hands in a body of water that is kosher for use as a mikveh.

When to Eat

The meat of the Shelamim may not be eaten by its owners before the Kohanim have offered its sacrificial parts on the altar, for it is the latter activity that makes it permissible for the sacrificial meat to be eaten to begin with. The exception to this rule is in the case that the sacrificial parts are accidentally lost or destroyed before they reach the altar, in which case the meat may be eaten as long as the sacrificial blood was sprinkled on the altar.

Eating the meat of the Shelamim is a mitzvah that is observed by the offering's owners and not just by the Kohanim. The blessing before eating the meat is as follows: "Baruch...le'echol zevach," or alternatively, "al achilas shelamim." ("Blessed are You ... instructed us to eat the sacrifice," or "...instructed us regarding the eating of the peace-offering.")

How to Eat

The basic obligation is fulfilled by eating just a kezayis of meat. However, all of the meat must be eaten (by the owner or by others) for another reason: so that it does not become nosar—sacrificial meat left uneaten beyond the deadline stipulated in the Torah. According to some opinions, it is an actual mitzvah to eat the meat in its entirety.

During the festival, another mitzvah is performed simultaneously—that of eating the meat of a Shelamim during the festival for the sake of rejoicing during the festival as required by Torah law. A kezayis of meat is sufficient to fulfill this second obligation. (Some say a kezayis is insufficient and it must be lasovah, enough to be satiated, which is determined as the quantity of kebeitzah.) A married woman fulfills the obligation to partake of a Shelamim on the festival through her husband offering the sacrifice and sharing its meat with her. (Some opinions disagree.) Children are exempt from this obligation.

All sacrificial meat, of greater or lesser sanctity, must be prepared for eating lemashchah—in the manner that food is served to royalty or nobility. It must therefore be roasted and prepared with mustard. Tosefos explains this was common for royalty, but someone who prefers another manner of gourmet cuisine may follow their preference.¹¹²

Where to Eat

The Shelamim belongs to the category of kadashim kalim, sacrificial meat of lesser sanctity that may be eaten anywhere within the boundaries of the city of Yerushalayim. (Some say, only on ground level.)

For practical purposes, it is advisable to eat the Shelamim that is served hot at the table using (kosherable) metal —or disposable—plates, because the flavor of the hot meat that is absorbed into the utensils becomes nosar after a certain time, as will be discussed shortly. It is also advisable to clear the table of all other cutlery and crockery before serving the meat for the same reason.

The Shelamim must be eaten within a specific time frame (see below), and great care must be taken to avoid leaving any meat uneaten beyond this time. An individual who finishes their own portion of meat may leave the table, according to some opinions, and assume that the other adults who are still partaking of the meat will not leave any over beyond the stipulated time. They may not, however, rely on children to finish their portions, and must remain to supervise them.

Leftovers

After the deadline has passed, any remaining meat becomes nosar and it transmits ritual impurity to the hands of whoever touches it.

On the first night of Yom Tov, there is a mitzvah of linah, whereby someone bringing an offering to the Beis Hamikdash is obligated to spend the entire night in Yerushalayim. There is an additional obligation to remain there on the following night, the eve of the second day of Yom Tov, which can be attributed to the festival or to the offering they brought. The Midrash on Rus on the phrase, “ba’asher talini alin” (Wherever you lodge, I will lodge)¹¹³ seems to imply that women are included in the obligation of linah due the offerings they bring.

Shelamim must be eaten within “two days and one night,” which includes the actual day on which the sacrifice was brought (when its blood was sprinkled on the altar), as well as the following night, and then the entire following day until sunset. In our case, when the sacrifice was offered on the sixth of Sivan, it should be eaten before the conclusion of the seventh of Sivan. Nevertheless, the proper way to fulfill the mitzvah is to eat it on the actual day of offering and/or the following night.

It is a mitzvah to burn any leftover meat that has become nosar due to passing the deadline. Although Shelamim-meat becomes nosar after sunset on the second day, it must not be burned at night. The prescribed time for burning nosar is on the following morning.

112) The Rambam's view of this obligation is elaborated upon in Kovetz Hallelu Avdei Hashem. In the drashah delivered in 770 in honor of Shavuot 5775, Harav Braun shlita expounded on the debate regarding one who did not prepare mustard for his Shelamim—whether he is permitted to transport the mustard from one domain to another, or instead sweeten it via extinguishing burning metal during Yom Tov, in light of the fact that mustard isn't considered a staple for all.

113) Rus 1:16

Cleanup

Metal utensils used for the Shelamim while the meat was hot require koshering. This must be performed within the city of Yerushalayim. The process demands rinsing with hot and cold water and hagalah (koshering via boiling water). If the utensil was earthenware, it must be shattered. Some are stringent to require shattering glass utensils and not to rely on the koshering process that is used for metal utensils. There is a halachic dispute as to the procedure required for reusable plastic utensils and plastic covers.

Chitas: Today's shiur in the daily Chumash is in Parshas Naso, from shishi to shevi'i, ending with the words, "zeh korban Achira ben Einan." (7:83)

The practice of reading the parshah on erev Shabbos in the manner of shnayim mikra va'echad targum is dispensed with today.

SHABBOS PREP

All foods that are being cooked for Shabbos must be completed well in advance of Shabbos, so that they could be eaten today if necessary—on erev Shabbos. Otherwise, it is forbidden to prepare for Shabbos during Yom Tov.

The eiruv tavshilin only facilitates food preparation, including washing dishes and the like, and even lighting the candles. But it does not allow other preparations such as folding a tallis or preparing a sefer Torah on Yom Tov for Shabbos.

Immersing in a mikveh on Yom Tov for the sake of the approaching Shabbos is a matter of much debate. Note the statement in Hemshech Tof-Reish-Samech-Vav: "Similarly, immersion in a mikveh is necessary to proceed from the sanctity of Yom Tov to the sanctity of Shabbos, as is recorded in the writings of the Arizal."

MINCHAH

Pasach Eliyahu and Yedid Nefesh are recited before Minchah, but not Hodu. This is followed by Korbonos, Ashrei, Uva l'tziyon, and the Amidah for shalosh regalim.

TAHALUCHA

"It has been customary for many years now," the Rebbe said,¹¹⁴ "that during Yom Tov we go to visit our Jewish brethren in other synagogues and batei midrashos in many other communities, in order to amplify the joy of the festival by uniting with large numbers of Jews from additional communities, and especially by reviewing Torah teachings ('The commandments of G-d are upright, causing the heart to rejoice'¹¹⁵) culled from both the revealed and mystical teachings of the Torah."

114) Sefer Hasichos 5751

115) Tehillim 19:9

The Rebbe's sichos are replete¹¹⁶ with unique insights concerning the important emphasis placed on Tahaluchah. Following are a few short points culled from a repository of sources:

MY SHLIACH

“You are going on my shlichus,” the Rebbe talks to the troupers. “I myself was unable to go, but I envy those who did, and for that I can justify saying ‘L’chaim’ as well!” On another occasion, the Rebbe said: “I did not go, but I desired it very much—on that account, I will also say ‘L’chaim!”

“Our Rebbeim placed special emphasis on the conceptual ‘feet’ of the soul,” those who trek were told on other occasions, “and this extends to the actual, physical feet and to those activities that rely on foot-service.”

In addition, “through the mitzvah of aliyah l’regel, the thrice-yearly pilgrimage to the Beis Hamikdash, we merit the revelation of ‘He who leads (the exiles) in their shoes (through dry land, with the splitting of the river in the Future Era).”¹¹⁷ This applies as well to any mitzvah that is performed with our feet—especially when participating in Tahaluchah, which requires much effort and great distance.”

MARCHING TO MOSHIACH

“Walking great distances to enliven Jews with the joy of the festivals accomplishes the ‘reaching of the feet in the feet’ (the lowliest aspect, reflecting a parallel level in holiness),¹¹⁸ which is the Shechinah’s descent into this world. With Tahaluchah, we uplift all of Seder Hishtalshelus (the system of Divine emanations that brought the worlds into being) until we affect the arrival of Moshiach about whom it states, ‘his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives’¹¹⁹—Moshiach’s coming depends on our avodas haregel (redeeming the lowliest sparks, but also, literally, ‘footwork’).”

BLESSING WITHOUT BORDERS:

“To those who went on Tahaluchah and affected joy unto others—to the point that they broke out dancing, literally, you will be blessed that your Torah learning will also succeed in an extreme manner, higher than any material effort—so will it be, too, with your mitzvah performance.” And, “The blessings will come, and all of you will advance in a manner that ‘you go from strength to strength’¹²⁰—each new stage incomparably greater than the previous one, and the blessings, as well, will not measure up, facilitating ever-higher accomplishments throughout the entire year.”

¹¹⁶ Most of these sources are from personal and unedited notes on the Rebbe’s talks. Some of these points can be found in the booklet “Tahaluchah”. See there for additional sources.

DISTANCE COUNTS!

“Praiseworthy are those who take part in Tahaluchah, and their merit, now and in the future, is great,” even if only on account of the trek itself. In fact, the greater the distance, the more merit is accrued. Do not imagine that only the start point (770, the Rebbe’s shul) and the end point (encouraging Jews in their own shuls) are important, and the journey there is merely a necessary step in the process of going and coming—truly, “each step of the way creates a good angel (as the Chassidim who traveled to the Rebbe by foot were wont to say).”

“It is possible,” the Rebbe further encourages, “that this location has been waiting since the Six Days of Creation for a Jew to pass by in pursuit of a mitzvah and to fulfill Hashem’s Will.” Don’t look for excuses why you should be exempt, or go because you feel that this is what [the Rebbe] decreed. Go joyfully, with song! In a manner that you are (as the verse says regarding the preparations to escape the Egyptian exile) “belted and shod”¹²¹ and with alacrity—be sure not to arrive late!

DO THIS BECAUSE...

The purpose of the Tahaluchah is to enliven and inspire Jews and strengthen their Yiddishkeit, including their faith in Moshiach’s arrival. In every location you arrive at, you should say a vort of Chassidus—concepts that are easy for the listeners to understand. Be vocal, expansive, and unembarrassed (but not confrontational) that you come as an emissary of the Rebbe.

Reminder! On the way back from Tahaluchah, it is forbidden to carry anything through the streets because Shabbos has already begun.

YOM TOV PREP FOR CANDLES

Do not warm the base of a candle to stick it to its holder. This is prohibited as a precaution, so that you will not come to directly smooth or straighten the bottom of the wax candle. Similarly, do not trim the bottom of a candle to insert it more easily into its holder. This would violate the prohibition of cutting to size. However, you may firmly press a candle into its position in the holder, even if this will cause its base to erode somewhat to fit the holder—this action is not considered cutting to size.

Technically, you may clean out a used candle holder on Yom Tov without fear of violating the prohibition of fixing an article on Yom Tov. Similarly, if using Neronim, you may clean a used glass holder from the metal disk that held the used wick in order to insert a new candle in its place. There is an issue, however, of muktzah with the remnants of used wax, charred wicks, or spent metal tabs; these items may not be moved on Yom Tov. (This is especially an issue nowadays, when such items are considered disposable and will not be reused. Even in pre-modern times, when such materials were indeed reused, moving them was somewhat problematic. As the Alter Rebbe explains, “Although according to the strict letter of the law, these items are not muktzah, it is appropriate to be careful not to move them except for great need.” It is prohibited to move them even when moved for the sake of food preparation.)

The solution, if you are using wax candles, is to take the holder over to the garbage (since the glass holder isn’t muktzah—for reasons beyond the scope of this publication), and shake it out there so that the remnants of wax and wick fall directly into the garbage can. If it cannot be removed through shaking, or if you are using liquid wax candles and the spent tab has become stuck to the base of the glass holder so that it cannot be removed without prying it out with a knife or a similar object, you may not do so during Yom Tov. There is no difference in this case between using a knife and using your fingers—the issue of muktzah remains. You may, however, remove it with a shinui, using an item not normally used to remove it. The preferred solution is to think ahead (as mentioned in the entry of erev Yom Tov) and pour a small quantity of oil into the holder before Yom Tov, which would prevent the tab from sticking to the glass in the first place. This would enable you to take the holder to the garbage can during Yom Tov and to shake its contents directly into the garbage.

CANDLE LIGHTING

Light candles at 7:57 pm from a flame that has remained lit from before the onset of Yom Tov. Someone who forgot to light the gas burner or another 24-hour candle before the start of Yom Tov is permitted to ask a non-Jew to light it now.

There are two blessings today: (1) l’hadlik ner shel Shabbos v’shel yom tov; and (2) Shehechyanu. If you made a mistake in the brachos, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

If using a match to light from the pre-existing flame, be sure to lay it down where it can burn out safely on its own; remember not to extinguish it on Yom Tov.

If the time for candle lighting has passed, you are not permitted to light them using a pre-existing flame, G-d forbid.

It is a mitzvah for each person to check their pockets close to the onset of Shabbos to avoid carrying on Shabbos. This is critical when Yom Tov precedes Shabbos and items may have been carried during Yom Tov.

ההלכתא למשיחא: כשישראל בישובו, יום טוב שחל להיות בערב שבת תוקעין ולא מבדילין.

FRIDAY NIGHT—2ND NIGHT OF SHAVUOS

STRICTER SECOND DAY

The Rebbe often referred to the statement of the Chasam Sofer that the second day of Shavuos is treated more stringently than the second days of Pesach and Sukkos. This is because of a fundamental difference in the original establishment of these dates:

The second day of Yom Tov for Pesach and Sukkos were established due to a doubt that existed in former times as to the correct date of these festivals. By the time these festivals arrived (on the fifteenth of Nissan and the fifteenth of Tishrei), communities located at a considerable distance from Yerushalayim had not yet heard word of the decision of the beis din in Yerushalayim regarding the establishment of Rosh Chodesh Nissan or Rosh Chodesh Tishrei. Therefore, they were unable to determine the precise date of Pesach and Sukkos. Due to this doubt, a second day was added to these two festivals by way of precaution. Conversely, there was never a doubt regarding the correct date for Shavuos, because Shavuos is not celebrated on a particular date in the calendar, but rather on the fiftieth day after the first day of Pesach. In other words, whether Rosh Chodesh Sivan is one day or two days is irrelevant to determining the date of Shavuos. Rather, Shavuos depends solely on when Pesach began—which in turn depends on Rosh Chodesh Nissan. By the time Shavuos arrived, even communities living at a distance from Yerushalayim had ample time—over two months—to clarify the beis din's decision regarding Rosh Chodesh Nissan.

The Sages nevertheless established a second day for Shavuos simply to avoid confusion between Pesach, Shavuos, and Sukkos. As a result, the second day of Shavuos is not the product of a doubt, but a deliberate act of the Sages. It is therefore treated with the greater stringency afforded purposeful Rabbinical enactments.

MAARIV

Maariv begins with Mizmor l'Dovid. In Lecha dodi, the text is altered from "b'rinah uv'tzahalah" to read: "b'simchah uv'tzahalah."

The Amidah for shalosh regalim is recited with the additions for Shabbos. As on a regular Shabbos, the Amidah is followed by Vayechulu, etc., Kaddish tiskabel, Mizmor l'Dovid, chatzi Kaddish, and Barchu. Then Aleinu, and Kaddish Yasom.

We greet each other with, "Good Shabbos, good Yom Tov!"

The Alter Rebbe states in his Shulchan Aruch that those who are accustomed to recite Bameh madlikin on the eve of each Shabbos (which is not Chabad practice; the section was entirely omitted from the Alter Rebbe's siddur) do not read it when Shabbos coincides with Yom Tov or Chol Hamoed. It is omitted for the sake of timing, "so as to hurry into the rejoicing of the festival."

KIDDUSH & HAMOTZI

Recite Shalom aleichim, Eishes chayil, Mizmor l'Dovid, and Da hi seudasa quietly. We then say Askinu for Shabbos.

The order of Kiddush is as follows: (1) Yom hashishi, (2) borei pri hagafen, (3) mekadesh hashabbos veyisrael vehaz'manim, and (4) Shehechiyanu.

if you made a mistake in Kiddush, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

It is best to wait until one of the Shabbos meals to eat the challah used in the eiruv tavshilin, because it is appropriate to reuse an item used for a mitzvah to perform another mitzvah. Some wait until the third meal of Shabbos. They use the challah as lechem mishneh for the first two meals of Shabbos. (If you do not have a third meal, as is the Chabad custom, eat it at the second meal). It is obvious that the same would apply to the cooked food used in the eiruv.

During Birchas Hamazon, first recite Retzei for Shabbos and then ya'aleh veyavo for Shavuos.

If you forgot to recite Retzei or ya'aleh veyavo, or made another mistake associated with them, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

Recite the Harachamans for Shabbos and for Yom Tov.

SHABBOS, 7 SIVAN—2ND DAY OF SHAVUOS

TEFILLOS

Shacharis is identical to yesterday's Shacharis, with additions for Shabbos.

The Alter Rebbe's Shulchan Aruch records the custom of reading Megillas Rus in shul on Shavuos to impart the message that the Torah can be acquired only by those who are willing to undergo suffering and poverty in order to merit it, as reflected in the story of Rus, who converted and embraced the Torah under such conditions. He states that a blessing should not be recited over this reading.

Although it is not the Chabad custom to read Rus, neither in shul nor at home, the Rebbe emphasizes that the theme of Rus and its association with Shavuos is not diminished. In fact, Megillas Rus is expounded at length in the teachings of Chassidus on Shavuos. Its importance is further underscored by the fact that the entire Megillas Rus is included in the Tikkun that we recite on the night of Shavuos while almost every other book of the Torah is represented in the Tikkun by only a number of verses. Only those subjects that are deeply connected to Shavuos (another example is Ma'aseh Merkavah) appear in their entirety. The Rebbe also explains that the crucial connection to Shavuos is the fact that Dovid Hamelech was born and passed away on Shavuos and that the purpose of Megillas Rus is to detail his ancestry.

KRIAS HATORAH

Two sifrei Torah are read. When the aron is opened, Yud-Gimmel Middos and Ribbono shel Olam are not recited as it is Shabbos.

Seven aliyos are read from the first sefer Torah from the portion Aseir t'aseir. The Maftir is read from the second scroll, exactly as on the first day of Shavuos. The Haftarah is from Tefilah l'Chavakuk until lam'natze'ach binginaso. However,

Chabad—and others, as well—have the custom to begin from Va-shem b'heichal kodsho.

Recite Yekum purkan after reading the Torah.

YIZKOR

Yizkor is recited as well as Av harachamim (even though today is Shabbos). Someone who cannot attend shul, may say Yizkor without a minyan as well.¹²²

Anyone with two living parents should exit the shul while Yizkor is recited. A mourner (within the first year) remains, but does not say the Yizkor prayer.

The handles of the sifrei Torah should be held when reciting Yizkor.¹²³

During Yizkor the name of the departed is mentioned with their mother's name.¹²⁴

DOUBLE BENEFIT

"We say Yizkor even for those (lofty) neshamos that are not needy of any rectification," the Rebbe says.¹²⁵ "(We can derive this) from the well-known custom of Chassidim to mention my father-in-law, the (Friediker) Rebbe, and also the previous Rebbeim they were personally connected to. So this Yizkor has an effect on the one reciting it. However, we must say that the holy neshamah mentioned is also uplifted, as the liturgy of Yizkor states clearly."

It is customary to pledge tzedakah while saying Yizkor; whether as a general pledge or actually specifying the amount—both are legitimate practices.¹²⁶

The difference between Yizkor and Av harachamim is that Yizkor is recited by individuals in the merit of particular souls, whereas Av harachamim is recited by the public in the merit of all departed souls from the Jewish community at large. Usually, on a day on which Tachanun is not recited, Av harachamim is also omitted because it is a universal form of Yizkor. But today, when individuals need to recite Yizkor, they recite Av harachamim as part of that service, so it may also be recited by those who do not need to recite Yizkor, if they so wish.

MUSAF

Musaf for shalosh regalim is recited like yesterday, adding the parts that apply to Shabbos. We always mention Shabbos before mentioning the festival (Vatiten lanu ... es yom hashabbos hazeh v'es yom chag hashavuos hazeh... v'es musfei yom hashabbos hazeh v'yom chag hashavuos hazeh...). Recite the verses

122) See www.asktherav.com #7960

123) though we are not meticulous that each person who is reciting Yizkor should have received an aliyah that day.

124) This is the instruction in the Alter Rebbe's siddur and many other more contemporary sources. See Hebrew footnotes for a comprehensive list.

125) Roshei Devarim of Sichas Acharon shel Pesach 5726

126) See Roshei Devarim of the sichah of the second day of Shavuos, 5748 for Shabbos (Uv'yom hashabbos) as well as the verses that apply to Shavuos (Uveyom habikurim) followed by Uminchasam veniskeihem. Recite Yismechu vemalchusecha and conclude the blessing that follows with mekadesh hashabbos veyisrael vehaz'manim.

The conclusion of the blessing in Musaf is important. If you recite the entire blessing correctly, but conclude with mekadesh hashabbos or mekadesh yisrael vehaz'manim instead of mentioning both Shabbos and Yom Tov—or any other mistake, see the chart at the end of the booklet.

After Aleinu, the daily Tehillim (for the seventh of the month) is recited. Then say the paragraph Velakachta soles and the Six Remembrances.

LAW OF REDEMPTION: ONE FOR ALL

On Shabbos that coincides with Yom Tov or Chol Hamoed, all groups of Kohanim, not only those assigned to that day's service in the Beis Hamikdash, divide the bread of the lechem hapanim equally.

KIDDUSH

Lu'ach Colel Chabad reports that the introduction to Kiddush (from Mizmor l'Dovid until vayekadesheihu) is recited in an undertone; Eileh mo'adei is then recited, followed by Savrei maranan and borei pri hagafen.

Forgetting Shehechyanu: If you forgot to recite Shehechyanu in last night's Kiddush, say it anytime before the end of Yom Tov (even if you remembered it the first night).

MINCHA

Minchah is identical to yesterday's, with additions for Shabbos, which also includes the reading of the Torah from Parshas Naso, at the beginning.

Pirkei Avos is not recited (except in the Land of Israel, where it is just Shabbos).

FARBRENGEN

It is customary to wash hands for bread before sunset and to eat at least the quantity of bread equal to a kebeitzah to participate in a farbrengen. The niggunim of all the Rebbeim are sung.

It is appropriate to be stringent and take into account the view that we are required to recite hamotzi over two complete loaves (challos). Even if we eat an entire series of meals on Yom Tov, we should use two loaves each time, if they are available. If not, we should at least use one whole challah.

THE ZEIDE'S MEAL

The Frierdiker Rebbe recounted,¹²⁷ "Our master the Baal Shem Tov greatly cherished the second day of Shavuos. Immediately following his public revelation (as a Baal Shem), at a time when everything was done with alacrity and by the strict letter of the Shulchan Aruch—so that Kabbolas Shabbos was recited at its precise time, and the like—the Baal Shem Tov held a unique schedule on the second day of Shavuos. He would pray at the earliest time in the morning, and then hold a small meal together with a minyán of his students in order to recite Birchas Hamazon over a cup of blessing. Later, in the middle of the day, he would hold a grand meal and he would farbreng for hours. He continued this practice until the day of his passing."

"The Alter Rebbe would refer to the meal on the second day of Shavuos as dem zeiden's seudah (Grandfather's meal)," the Frierdiker Rebbe relates. "During the meal, the Alter Rebbe would pronounce, 'Baruch haba!' (Welcome!). At that point, the Chassidim knew that the Baal Shem Tov was present.

BARUCH HABA!

"It once happened that during the meal of the second day of Shavuos, the Alter Rebbe failed to announce baruch haba. Three elderly individuals were present; they had known the Baal Shem Tov personally. Since the guests would sometimes speak at the Alter Rebbe's table, these individuals began repeating their recollections of the Baal Shem Tov. The Alter Rebbe called out that the Baal Shem Tov is still busy right now in gan eden ha'elyon and mesivta d'Kudsha Brich Hu (the higher gan eden and the supernal academy of the Holy One blessed be He). A while later, the Alter Rebbe pronounced baruch haba, and they knew that the Baal Shem Tov had arrived at the meal. This episode was recounted by the Tzemach Tzedek, who was present at that gathering. He was six years old at the time, because this took place in the year 5556. The story was subsequently transmitted from one Rebbe to the next."

INVITING ALL THE REBBEIM

On the second day of Shavuos in the year 5715, the Rebbe instructed the Chassidim to sing a number of niggunim. However, the Rebbe himself sat in his chair, seemingly withdrawn, an extremely serious expression on his face, and entirely lost in his thoughts. After some time, he began to speak with tremendous emotion and delivered the following message:

"The Alter Rebbe used to announce, 'Baruch haba!' at the Shavuos meal. He was referring to the Baal Shem Tov, because the Baal Shem Tov's yahrtzeit is on Shavuos.

"Some elderly Chassidim were once seated at his table, and they related stories of the Baal Shem Tov. As is known, through relating stories of tzaddikim it is possible to draw down the souls of those tzaddikim. The Alter Rebbe told them that the Baal Shem Tov was still busy in gan eden ha'elyon.... After some time, the Alter Rebbe pronounced baruch haba—in his customary tune—and everyone seated at the table ¹²⁷ Sichas Yom Beis D'chag Hashavuos 5704. See there for the reason behind this practice. The Rebbe explains this further in Likkutei Sichos, vol. 4, p. 1027ff.

then realized that the Baal Shem Tov had arrived.”

At this point, the Rebbe announced, “Whoever sees and feels and is able to say baruch haba should say, ‘Baruch haba!’ (When the Rebbe said these last two words, he said them with a tune.)

“When the ispashtusa d’Moshe (a leader whose soul is an extension of Moshe’s soul) that is in each generation is present—and in our generation, it is my father-in-law the Rebbe—then through him, the Rebbe Rashab is also present. He, my father-in-law, the (Friediker) Rebbe, is the Rebbe Rashab’s memaleh makom (his successor), and as we have often explained, the concept of memaleh makom is that all the matters that existed previously continue to exist, and even with an addition. And when the Rebbe Rashab is present, then the Rebbe Maharash is also present. When the Rebbe Maharash is present, then the Tzemach Tzedek is here as well. When the Tzemach Tzedek is present, then the Mitteler Rebbe is also here. When the Mitteler Rebbe is present, then the Alter Rebbe is here as well. When the Alter Rebbe is present, then the Maggid is also here. When the Maggid is here, then the Baal Shem Tov is present as well.

“In general, it is not possible to differentiate between our Rebbeim, but at least as far as we are concerned, whichever Rebbe is closest to us is most precious to us. Since a large percentage of the audience here are Chassidim of my father-in-law, the Rebbe, for they were with him in the life that he lived in this world, and they study his Torah teachings, and so on, it is therefore understandable that my father-in-law, the Rebbe is the most critical for us.

“True, there is the Baal Shem Tov, the Maggid, the Alter Rebbe, the Mitteler Rebbe, the Tzemach Tzedek, the Rebbe Maharash, and the Rebbe Rashab—but what is most critical for us is the Rebbe. It is through him that we also have the Rebbe Rashab, the Rebbe Maharash, the Tzemach Tzedek, the Mitteler Rebbe, the Alter Rebbe, the Maggid, and the Baal Shem Tov—who received his teachings from (the prophet) Achiyah Hashiloni, who was also the teacher of Eliyahu Hanavi regarding whom it is stated, ‘v’heishiv lev avos al banim’¹²⁸ (He will turn the heart of the fathers back through the children, and the heart of the children back through their fathers)—may it be speedily in our days!”

OUR WEDDING DAY

“They say about weddings,” the Rebbe says,¹²⁹ “that with all the stress and confusion, the baalei simchah need to be reminded not to forget the most important thing—that the chosson and kallah actually have a kiddushin! The same can be said of the Yom Tov of Shavuos, which is also a chasunah, as the Arizal explains.

“Shavuos is a wedding in two aspects—one, a marriage of Hashem with Bnei Yisrael, and also a unification of Bnei Yisrael with Torah.... At every wedding ceremony, there are the ways in which the husband is bound to provide for his wife. In this case (Matan Torah), what are the ‘husband’s’ obligations? In the case of Yisrael,

128) Malachi 3:24

129) Roshei Devarim Sichas Yom Beis D’chag Hashavuos 5724

we are committing to the Torah, obliging ourselves to be amelim—toilers of Torah learning. From Hashem's side, in His wedding with His bride, the Congregation of Israel, He is promising to deliver on the blessings listed in the Torah, 'I will give you rains in their proper time...'130 (see the original source for elaboration).

"These days are remembered and repeated' each year (as the Megillah writes). So when the Yom Tov of Shavuos arrives, the Time of the Giving of the Torah, each of us must accept resolutions, with the proper focus, to toil in Torah. And in return, Hashem commits to give all of us and our families all we need in the physical and revealed sense.

"So all those who have exerted themselves in the study of Torah before Shavuos, must add even more effort now, with firm commitment, without delaying until tomorrow. Right now, tonight, on motzoei Shavuos, add in your Torah engagement!

"This directive is addressed to those who are 'stressed out with wedding preparations', who, because of all the balagan, might forget what is most essential—that the main point of the whole wedding is to reach the King's inner chambers! Now that we are completing the avodah of Sefiras Ha'omer, which focuses on perfecting our character, it might happen that we become so consumed with this tremendous work and its accompanying revelations that we neglect to actually reach the goal—acceptance of the Torah. This is the essential point we must remember on Shavuos: let's not get caught up in all the epiphanies, but grab the essence—the limitless quality inherent in Torah and mitzvos.

"Therefore, every year when Shavuos arrives, each of us need to boost our commitment to Torah and mitzvos in all three main facets: Torah, tefillah, and tzedakah—without any constraint. For despite already being involved in these three areas until now, it has been within certain limitations. See, for example: with regard to tzedakah—do you still have any money? That's proof that you've been giving with restraint! Do you have stores of energy? You've been toiling in Torah within limits. And since you are still a mentch, it's likewise obvious that your mode of 'purging your soul (to Hashem)' isn't completely realized.

"Therefore, today, on Shavuos (every year, and especially this one) we must add in every aspect, with no holds barred!"

LEARNING ONWARD AND UPWARD

"The emanations are drawn down on Shavuos to every Jew," the Rebbe says in a maamar,¹³¹ "and give him strength in his Divine service through the coming days. If someone, G-d forbid, is lacking in his service, these effusions give him no rest and drive him to toil in his work in the coming days in the optimal manner, starting with the days of tashlumin (rectification) of Shavuos until the twelfth of Sivan, inclusively (these are days we do not say Tachanun, as the Alter Rebbe writes in his siddur, since these are days on which the sacrifices of the Festival were [still] brought), until we channel these phenomena (into our lives) throughout the year.

130) Vayikra 26:4

131) maamar Yom Beis D'chag Hashavuos 5748

With this, the year will include all the brachos that are indicated by the letters of the Alef-Beis, up to (the last one, Taf)—a year of Torah...”

At these Shavuos farbrengens, the Rebbe often demanded an increase in Torah study, including the daily study of Chitas and Rambam. Here is an excerpt of one such *farbrengen*¹³²:

“... this applies to the shiurei Chitas—the daily study of Chumash (divided according to the days of the week), of Tehillim (divided according to the days of the month), and of Tanya (divided according to the days of the year). These three shiurim correspond to the three shepherds of the Jewish people who are associated with Shavuos: Chumash is associated with Moshe Rabbeinu who received the Torah at Sinai; Tehillim is the book of Dovid Hamelech who passed away on Shavuos; And Tanya is the elucidation of the teachings of Rabbi Yisrael Baal Shem Tov whose hillula is also on Shavuos. And how good, how appropriate, and so on, it would be to apply this to the daily study of Rambam (divided into an annual cycle of three chapters a day, or a three-year cycle of one chapter a day, or an annual cycle of Sefer Hamitzvos).”

INTO THE NIGHT

If the Yom Tov meal or farbrengen extend past nightfall—even if it extends many hours into the night—recite Retzei and ya’aleh veyavo during Birchas Hamazon. As long as the meal began at a time when ya’aleh v’eyavo was required, that obligation continues for the duration of his meal. The exception to this is if Maariv, krias shema or Havdalah were said during the meal—in that case, the benching is the regular weekday recitation.

MOTZOEI YOM TOV

Yom Tov ends at 9:06 pm.

Atah chonantonu is added to the Amidah of Maariv.

The Amidah is followed by chatzi Kaddish, Vihi noam, V’atah kadosh, Kaddish Shalem, and Aleinu.

It is possible to recite Kiddush Levanah tonight.¹³³

The regular text of Havdalah is recited. As it is also motzoei Shabbos, we recite the blessings on the spices and the flame, and Havdalah’s conclusion is followed by Veyiten lecha.

132) Chag Hashavuos 5751, printed in Sefer Hasichos 5751, vol. 2, p. 560.

133) This year, motzoei Yom Tov is also motzoei Shabbos, which is the opportune time to say Kiddush Levanah. The following discussion is regarding a year where it is a weeknight:

There is a special aspect to blessing the moon on motzoei Shabbos. Does this extend to motzoei Yom Tov? There is support in the sources for either conclusion—see Hebrew section for extensive notes on this subject—yet it was not the practice in the Rebbe’s shul for Kiddush Levanah to be recited after Kos shel brachah on motzoei Yom Tov (as evidenced by the private diaries of years past; see also Sefer Hasichos 5751, p. 596, fn. 159). However, it is also recorded (as brought by the Rema and printed in Sefer Hasichos 5752, vol. 1, p. 68) that we do not wait until motzoei Shabbos when it falls after the tenth of the month, and even more so when the season or location make moon sightings less certain. As stated in the sichah: “If there is a question of a doubt, follow the direction of a local posek.”

SUNDAY, 8 SIVAN—ISRU CHAG

This week, the Chumash/Rashi studied daily as part of Chitas is the same as last week—Parshas Naso (for the second time).

YOM T'VOACH

The day after Shavuos is called Yom T'voach (Slaughtering Day), when the olot r'iyah were brought. For this reason, it is forbidden to fast on Isru Chag Shavuos by force of law (not merely per custom as it is on other days that immediately follow a festival). Even a chosson who is getting married today cannot fast.

TASHLUMIM

Until the twelfth of Sivan (inclusively), Tachanun is not recited, because this post-festival period is a time of tashlumin, meaning that personal festive offerings that were not brought during Shavuos may still be offered during this period. (On this coming Shabbos, we omit Av harachamim and Tzidkasecha tzedek.) Rather than reciting Tachanun, we yearn and expect each day that Moshiach will arrive and we will offer the festive sacrifices (shalmei simchah and shalmei chagigah) that we were unable to offer on Shavuos.

PACKING UP

"The Tzemach Tzedek asked the Alter Rebbe," the Frierdiker Rebbe tells,¹³⁴ "why Shavuos is celebrated for seven days until the twelfth of Sivan (in that we refrain from reciting Tachanun, and so on). The Alter Rebbe responded that it is analogous to merchants who travel to participate in a great two-day business fair where they purchase much merchandise. Once the fair is over, they need to journey back to their homes. However, they linger for a few days in order to properly package and secure their merchandise, especially if they have to travel a great distance, in which case, there is always a concern that something may be lost or stolen along the way. The same is true of the Festival of the Giving of the Torah. Without a doubt, each Jew acquires something from the revelations of this festival. He must linger until he has properly packaged that which he acquired. The concept of waiting a few days after the festival is in order to secure everything so that it will not be lost with the trials of time."

ISRU CHAG

The day following a festival is referred to as Isru Chag. This name is derived from the verse, "Isru chag ba'avosim ad karnos hamizbe'ach" (Bind the festival [offering] with cords until [you bring it to] the horns of the altar).¹³⁵ Taken literally, the phrase isru chag means to bind the festival itself, which Chazal explain as connecting the day following the festival with the actual festival, to celebrate in honor of the festival that has just ended. This celebration, Chazal say, takes the form of feasting, as alluded to in the alternative meaning of ba'avosim— with 134) Sichas Yom Beis D'chag Hashavuos 5698

135) Tehillim 118

fattened cattle. The verse's final phrase, "to the horns of the altar," allude to the fact that whoever celebrates by eating and drinking a little more than usual on the day after the festival, and treats it as a mini-festival in honor of the departed festival, is considered having built an altar and offered an actual sacrifice to Hashem. It is customary to eat and drink a little more than usual on this day.

FILLING PLEDGES

Someone who pledged to give tzedakah during Yizkor should not delay in fulfilling their pledge. In a number of letters, the Alter Rebbe places extraordinary emphasis on donating money owed to tzedakah, in addition to the need to avoid the prohibition against delaying fulfillment of a vow. The author of Terumas Hadeshen would not eat food on the morning of Isru Chag until he had sent yizkor-money to the gabbaim.¹³⁶

There is a debate regarding someone who forgot to recite Havdalah on motzoei Yom Tov. Some say that they can recite it the following day, while others disagree. Since the matter is shrouded in doubt, we do not recite Havdalah on Isru Chag.

KINUS TORAH

At a farbrengen on the second day of Shavuos 5749, the Rebbe said¹³⁷: The custom which has been established over a number of years and in numerous locations, to arrange a Kinus Torah following—and in close proximity to—all of the three major festivals [Pesach, Shavuos, and Sukkos]... and especially Shavuos, for being the "Time of the Giving of the Torah", it is the most appropriate time to hold a Kinus Torah... We should strive to publicize this custom wherever it has not yet been implemented, so that the people of those locations will likewise arrange a Kinus Torah in continuation of—and in proximity to—the festivals, i.e., on the day of Isru Chag. They should consider the local conditions and hold the Kinus during subsequent days instead if doing so will allow for a larger attendance.

Rabbi Yeshayahu Hertzl, shlita recounted the following episode: "In the year 5726, I was standing outside 770, the court of the Rebbe shlita, together with my father-in-law, Harav Yaakov Freidman, of blessed memory. It was Isru Chag Shavuos, and the Kinus Torah was underway [inside the building]. The Rebbe turned to us and demanded, 'Why are you standing outside of the Kinus Torah?' We responded that we were so preoccupied with arrangements for the upcoming wedding that we had not paid attention to the matter at all. The Rebbe again demanded, 'But it is the middle of Torah! For wedding arrangements you should steal time from your sleep!' From then on, it was fixed within me a sense of the importance of participating in these kinusim even when it is somewhat difficult. When I recounted all this at the Shavuos Kinus Torah, Harav Hagoon Rabbi Mentlik, of blessed memory, was extremely pleased to hear of this exchange, and he exclaimed, 'Why did you wait until the conclusion of the Kinus to report this!'"

LAW OF REDEMPTION: MAKEUP DAYS

During the days immediately following Shavuos, we may offer the following mandatory Yom Tov sacrifices that we did not have an opportunity to offer during Yom Tov: shalmei simchah and chagigah.

As for the olas r'iyah, although the established halacha is like Beis Hillel who say it is permissible to bring it on Yom Tov itself, still in this case, Beis Hillel did as Beis Shamai said not to bring them on Yom Tov (since it is not needed for food we do not desecrate the Yom Tov for it, since it is possible to bring it after Yom Tov). Many Jews did the same, and brought it the day after Shavuos.¹³⁸

Once the festival has concluded, the utensils and equipment of the Beis Hamikdash are removed from their places and immersed. This is done to purify the Courtyard from the ritual impurity of those ignorant of the laws of ritual purity who came in contact with the equipment during the festival.

Forgot Havdalah? For the timeframe when it can still be recited, see the chart at the end of the booklet

THURSDAY, 12 SIVANTHE SEVENTH DAY

"While we were out together for a walk," the Frierdiker Rebbe relates,¹³⁹ "my father told me: 'Today (the twelfth of Sivan) is the seventh day from Shavuos.' He proceeded to list all the superior qualities of Hoshana Rabba, which is the seventh day of Sukkos and those of Shvi'i shel Pesach, the seventh day of Pesach. He then explained the concept of the twelfth of Sivan, the seventh day from Shavuos."¹⁴⁰ In a sichah on the twelfth of Sivan, 5720, the Rebbe explains that this day has the quality of the "the seventh is beloved." Since this is the culmination of the revelations associated with the festival of Shavuos, the light radiates with more intensity, with an even greater shturem than it shone on Shavuos itself, because it possesses the superiority of or chozer (light that rebounds [with added strength]).

FRIDAY, 13 SIVAN

Today, Tachanun is resumed, after being suspended throughout the yemei tashlumim.

Chitas includes the sixth to seventh portion of Parshas Naso, up to the words, "zeh korban Achira ben Einan."¹⁴¹

We wish our readers and the entire Crown Heights community, among the entire community of Anash worldwide, and all our fellow Jews, a gut Yom Tov, kabbolas hatorah b'simchah uv'pnimius, a healthy summer, and above all, the immediate revelation of the true and complete Redemption!

the earlier one. The earlier tefillah can only be compensated as long as you are occupied with the following one; once you have finished davening, you are no longer able to make it up. See details (in Hebrew) on #25750

However, if you erred in Shacharis, and you already recited Musaf, do not repeat the amida.

On motzoei Shabbos and motzoei Yom Tov, repeat חוננתנו אתה.

If, on motzoei Yom Tov, you realize that you made a mistake in Minchah that day, you may repeat the Amidah after Maariv, but only as a tefillas nedavah (a "bonus", i.e., non-obligatory).
